GIOVANNI ACCIAI (ITALY)

The sacred italian concerted music of the XVIIth century: the stylus phantasticus of Giovanni Battista Bassani and his Armonici entusiasmi di Davide, opus IX + (L)(E)

With this lesson Giovanni Acciai wants to throw new light on the Italian composer Giovanni Battista Bassani (1647-1716) and his vocal sacred music. Bassani lived and worked in a historical period spanning the mid-seventeenth century and the early of eighteenth century. It was a time defined by the historical musicians and musicologists as the early Baroque. It was marked by the statement of a new practice of writing music, the so-called seconda prattica. This new style, created by Claudio Monteverdi, preferring the modern music, called musica concertata, was in contrast with the old traditional polyphonic music, a genre practiced in previous centuries. The Bassani's Armonici entusiasmi di Davide, opus IX are a beautiful and clear example of this deep stylistic change.

GIOVANNI ACCIAI is regular teacher of History of music, Musical semiography and Performance practice of the Academy of music «Giuseppe Verdi» of Milan and University of Potenza. He is graduated in Organ, in Composition and in Conducting technique at the Academy of music «Giuseppe Verdi» of Milan; he specialized in Musical paleography and philology at the University of Pavia. Director of the magazine «L'Offerta musicale», he has published numerous revisions of ancient music, musicological studies, translations, critical editions. Already conductor of the «Corale Universitaria di Torino» (from 1975 to 1983) and of the «Coro del Teatro comunale di Bologna», 1981-1982), at the moment he is artistic and musical conductor of the «Solisti del madrigale» and of the Collegium vocale et instrumentale «Nova Ars Cantandi», at the guide of which he attended to an intense concertistic and discographic activity. Since september 1989 and until the broke of the ensamble (1995) he has been conductor of the Chamber choir of the RAI of Rome. He is artistic director of the International choral competition of Riva del Garda (Trento), and National choral competition of Quartiano (Italy). He is regularly invited as president and member of jury of the most important international choral competitions and to give relations at musicological meetings and stages of choral conducting and of performance practice at national and foreign associations. In attended to the recording of the Vespri per la festa di Ognissanti by Giovanni Giacomo Arrigoni and the unabridged editions of Lamentazioni e i Responsori per la Settimana santa, op. XXII e XXIII by Lodovico Viadana, Missae «Beata es virgo Maria» and «Illuminare Jerusalem» by Giovanni Contino and Concerti ecclesiastici by Giacomo Moro da Viadana for the discographic companies «Concerto» and «Stradivarius» respectively; with the Ensemble «Micrologus» he has recorded a CD entitled Europa concordia musicae, with polyphonic music of XV and XVI centuries, ordered by the Cabinet and the RAI (Italian radio and television broadcasting corporation) on the occasion of the Italian six-months period of presidency of the European Union. For the discographic company «Nuova Era» he has been attended the recording of the Quarto and Sesto libro de' madrigali a cinque voci by Claudio Monteverdi, performed by the «Solisti del madrigale» and for the SARX of Milan, the unabridged edition of the Motecta festorum totius anni (1563) by Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina, performed by the Collegium vocale «Nova Ars Cantandi». For the discographic company «Tactus» he has been attended the recording of the Vespri della Beata Vergine of Isabella Leonarda performed by the Collegium vocale «Nova Ars Cantandi».

ALPER AKDENIZ (TURKY)

The Development of Turkish Music Sound System between the 19'th and 20'th Centuries • (L)(E)

The first systematic theory studies in the field of Turkish Music sound system coincides with 13th century. In this century Safiyuddin Abdülmü'min Urmevi (1216-1294) who introduced 17 pitched sound system, became the founder of systematist school. Coming after Urmevi, Abdulkadir Meragi (1360-1435) became an important representative of systematist school and he added new ideas about theory to his works. Among these ideas, mode forming and styles stand out. In the 15th and 16th centuries the systematist school maintained its improvement with the important theoreticians like Yusuf Bin Nizameddin, Hızır Bin Abdullah, Bedri Dilşad, Fethullah Şirvani, Ladikli Mehmed Çelebi, Seydi, Tirevi. Turkish Music theoreticians of the 17th and 18th centuries were Kantemiroğlu (1673-1727) ve Nayi Osman Dede (1652-1730). In the 19th and 20th centuries Abdülbaki Nasır Dede (1765-1821), Hâsim Bey (1815-1861), Rauf Yekta Bey (1871-1935), Hüseyin Sadettin Arel (1880-1955), Dr. Suphi Ezgi (1869-1962), Salih Murat Uzdilek (1891-1967), Abdulkadir Töre (1873-1946) ve Ekrem Karadeniz (1904-1981) were the prominent theoreticians who had studies in the field of Turkish Music sound system. Among these people Rauf Yekta was of the same opinion with the systematist school about forming the octave but he divided one octave into 24 sections which had no equal distances to each other. To make these sections he also used spesific sharp and flat signs that were different from each other. Nowadays, in the widely used Arel-Ezgi-Uzdilek sound system one octave has been divided into 24 sections that aren't equally far from each other and different 4 sharp and 4 flat signs have been used to do this. In this study, the subject of how Turkish Music sound system that has still being used was formed and who it was developed by will be discussed in detail. In the study, the method of literature review will be used.

ALPER AKDENIZ is lecturer in Dilek Sabancı State Conservatory. He gruated in traditional Turkish music department of State Conservatory from Selcuk University in 2003. He received his degree MA in traditional Turkish music department Enstitute of Social Sciences in 2008. He has constantly been working in the fields like Turkish music performance, solfège, theory, improvisation, written music and ud instrument teaching since 2003. He has made Turkish music concert more than 80 within the country and in foreign countries. At the same time he has made concerts in the field religious Turkish music.

ANDREA ANGELINI (ITALY)

The sound of St. Mark Basilica in Venice: myth and reality • (L)(E)

“Coro spezzato” is a term used to describe the division of musical forces into musically and spatially distinct groups. It is associated particularly with polychoral music written by composers in Venice in the mid-16th century. The contrasting groups of the choir, engage in a musical dialogue, in phrases of varying lengths and degrees of overlap. Cori Spezzati probably born cause of the unique interior with opposing choir lofts of Saint Mark’s Basilica. For the spacious architecture of this basilica, it was necessary to develop a musical style which exploited the sound-delay to advantage, rather than fought against it: thus the Venetian poly-choral style, was developed.

International Federation for Choral Music: what it is and what it does for choral music? • (L)(E)

The International Federation for Choral Music (IFCM) was founded in 1982 for the purpose of facilitating communication and exchange between choral musicians throughout the world. Through its world and regional symposia, conducting master classes, World Youth Choir, Choral Music Database (Musica), ChoralNet website, World Choral Census, International Choral Bulletin, World Day of Choral Singing and many other projects, IFCM is fulfilling its purpose. In a world that develops nuclear weapons, that lives with the expansion of terrorism, and that abuses the environment, choral singing is one of the most powerful unifying forces between nations. Differences in culture, political ideology, race and language disappear when people sing together. Literally, they merge as one voice to become part of a global family.

Born in Bologna, Italy, ANDREA ANGELINI began his piano studies as a child earning a Bachelor of Music at Ferrara's Frescobaldi Conservatory. Particularly interested in piano pedagogy, he studied with Rita Ferri and Alexander Lonquich. His interests led him to the choral field, and he earned a Bachelor studying Liturgical Music at Modena and at the International Art Academy in Rome with Fulvio Angius. He also studied organ at Pesaro's Conservatory of Music. He is the Artistic Director and Conductor of the professional group Musica Ficta Vocal Ensemble www.ensemble.musicaficta.org that frequently performs in important Festivals in Italy and abroad. He has been member of the Jury at many International Choir's Competitions. He frequently leads choral workshops in Italy and abroad. He is the artistic director and one of the tutors at the Rimini International Choral Workshop, where he teaches with Peter Phillips of the Tallis Scholars, www.musicaficta.org/welcome.html. Mr. Angelini is also the artistic director of the Rimini International Choral Competition, www.riminichoral.it. He is the Chief Editor of FARCORO, the Choral Magazine of the Regional Choir Association and of the International Choral Bulletin (ICB), the membership magazine of the IFCM (International Federation for Choral Music). His transcription of Faure's Requiem is published by Gelber Hund Verlag of Berlin, who are also publishers of a book of repertoire for organ and violin, edited by Mr. Angelini. For the American CanticaNOVA Publication, he has prepared transcriptions of important Renaissance Motets.

IVANA ARAS (CROATIA)

Utjecaj hormona na glas • (L)(CRO)

Ljudski glas mijenja se rastom, sazrijevanjem, starenjem, što nije samo genetski nego i hormonski uvjetovano. Isto tako, kod različitih hormonskih poremećaja javljaju se promjene kvalitete glasa. Kao uzroci takvih promjena najčešće se spominju spolni hormoni (estrogen, progesteron i androgeni) i hormon štitne žlijezde. Larinks je jedan od ciljnih organa jer se hormonski receptori nalaze u žlijezdama i fibroblastima u lamini propriji. Tijekom puberteta, kad započinje značajnija produkcija spolnih hormona glas je naročito nestabilan, dolazi do naglog rasta larinka, što dovodi do sniženja osnovne frekvencije obično za oko tercu kod djevojčica, te oko dvije oktave kod dječaka. Kod žena su hormonske varijacije fiziološki prisutne tijekom cijele reproduktivne dobi. Paralelno s ovarijskim ciklusom javljaju se i promjene na sluznici glasiljki koje obično prolaze nezapaženo, ali kod osoba koje su izložene jačem glasovnom naporu, ili kod onih koje već imaju neke patološke promjene na glasnici, mogu imati negativan utjecaj na kvalitetu glasa. U starijoj dobi, manjak estrogena dovodi do propadanja vezivnog tkiva, smanjenja broja žlijezda, te atrofije sluznice. U svakom od ovih razdoblja mijenjaju se biomehanički uvjeti koji barem dijelom određuju način produkcije glasa. Stoga se mijenjaju i predilekcijska mjesta za određene patološke promjene koje su također različite i neke karakteristične za dob i spol.

IVANA ARAS – Rođena je u Šibeniku, gdje je završila osnovnu i srednju školu te srednju muzičku školu. Nakon toga upisala se na Medicinski fakultet Sveučilišta u Zagrebu koji je završila 1994.g. Nakon pripravničkog staža 1997. započinje specijalizacija iz otorinolaringologije i cervikofacialne kirurgije u KB Sestre milosrdnice do godine 2001. Nakon toga radi u Poliklinici SUVAG, u kojoj je od godine 2007. voditelj Službe za medicinsku dijagnostiku i funkcionalnu terapiju slušanja. Nakon dvogodišnjeg staža, 2006 polaže ispit iz uže spacializacije - fonijatrije. Završen znanstveni poslijediplomski doktorski studij "Biomedicina i zdravstvo". U više navrata sudjelovala je kao predavačica na stručnom poslijediplomskom studiju iz ORL i cervikofacialne kirurgije te na Verbotonalnom seminaru u Poliklinici SUVAG (Zagreb).

Neki aspekti pjevanja u nastavi Glazbene kulture • (L)(CRO)

Važan i jedino mogući put glazbene edukacije je edukacija glazbom. Jedino onaj koji na bilo koji način može sudjelovati u procesu stvaranja glazbe, tu glazbu može upoznati i razumjeti. Stoga je pjevanje, kao jedna od neizbjježnih glazbenih komponenti, važna aktivnost u ranoj školskoj dobi jer osim psihofizičkih dobrobiti pruža i kognitivnu i estetsku komponentu odgoja glazbom. U ovom će se radu razmatrati neki od aspekata glazbene nastave u prva tri razreda osnovne škole kroz elemente djelovanja, poučavanja i vrjednovanja. Izložit će se i metodička koncepcija pjevanja u nastavi Glazbene kulture, izvannastavnih i izvanškolskih aktivnosti, kao i važnost samog pjevanja u svakodnevnom životu.

MIRA BRATUŠA (CROATIA)

Kako unaprijediti rad u glazbenoj nastavi s učenicima s posebno odgojno-obrazovnim potrebama uporabom nastavne tehnologije? (L)(CRO)

Iz prakse se pokazalo da se učenici s posebno odgojno obrazovnim potrebama vrlo često susreću s različitim vrstama teškoća na području percepcije, zapamćivanja i pamćenja, pozornosti, gorovne recepcije i ekspresije, koje znatno utječu na proces učenja. Razvojne osobitosti učenika sa sniženim intelektualnim sposobnostima odražavaju se kao ograničenja u intelektualnom funkcioniranju i adaptivnom ponašanju. Ta odstupanja u intelektualnom funkcioniranju najčešće se prepoznaju kao teškoće u izvođenju različitih misaonih operacija (analiziranje, povezivanje, zaključivanje) što znatno otežava usvajanje sadržaja učenja. Sama podrška u nastavnom planu i nastavnom procesu odnosi se na osiguranje prilagodbe sadržaja i svih strukturalnih elemenata nastavnog plana i nastavnog procesa sposobnostima učenika, što znači prilagođavati problemske sadržaje, didaktičko - metodičke postupke, zahtjeve i sredstva u radu s učenicima s posebno odgojno obrazovnim potrebama. Radio u nastavi, televizija, nastavni film, kompjuterska tehnologija, predstavljaju značajan faktor suvremene tehnologije koja se kao pomoć u glazbenoj nastavi koriste kao pomagala, služe za jasnije prezentiranje određenih nastavnih sadržaja, pomažu klasičnim metodama dok se u isto vrijeme metodologija nastave ne mijenja. Nastavna sredstva i pomagala izvori su znanja i instrumenti rada učitelja i učenika te su zajednička potreba koja kao takva omogućavaju interakciju kako učitelja tako i učenika sa nastavnim sadržajima.

MIRA BRATUŠA je rođena g. 1959., diplomirala je g. 1980. na Pedagoškoj akademiji u Mariboru (Učiteljica glazbene kulture); na Sveučilištu Jurja Dobrile u Puli sveučilišni dodiplomski studij Glazbene kulture i stekla je stručno zvanje magistra glazbene pedagogije g. 2010. Zaposlena je kao učitelj Glazbene kulture u Centru za odgoj i obrazovanje Čakovec, gdje održava nastavu iz glazbenih predmeta: glazbena kultura, glazbena kreativnost i muzikoterapija. Izlaganjima aktivno sudjeluje u radu na stručnim i znanstvenim skupovima iz područja glazbene pedagogije. Umjetnička je voditeljica ženske vokalne skupine KUD-a Ivan Mustač Kantor iz Svetе Marije s kojom nastupa na raznim smotrama i susretima, njeguje izvorno pučko pjevanje te folklorno pjevanje (dvoglasno, troglasno).

PIA BYGDEUS (SWEDEN)

To investigate the practice of choir leaders + (L)(E)

In my work as a musician and pedagogue I have often thought about how musical quality and knowledge can be developed in the work with choirs, where the role of the choral director is a complex one (Durrant, 2003; Bygdéus, 2006). When working with a choir, the same person often has several guises. In a previous study of how choir directors talk about leadership (Bygdéus, 2006) I found six aspects of their professional role: the pedagogue, the conductor and the leader, all with: administrative, social and artistic functions. The study gave rise to new questions on whether it is possible to investigate and make visible the mediating tools that choir masters use and the way in which artistic leadership is exercised.

During one year (2009/10) I have followed children's choir directors in their professional development as individuals as well as at a collective level. The study is based on a sociocultural perspective (Vygotskij, 1995; Vygotskij, 1999; Säljö, 2005; von Wright 2000). The study encompassed nine phases and ended with a focus discussion. The results show among other things how choral leadership is dependent on taking the other parts perspective, to think about (during the rehearsal) what the choristers do, how they sing, how it sounds and give them new instructions. During the time the choir leaders lead the group through different actions and the reflections between new actions they decide what to do and how. In this way, the leader constructs the leadership in the intervals between his/hers actions. To lead is to construct the leadership through actions and choir leadership involves continuously ongoing relationships on many different levels. My conclusion is that to lead is to embody a professional role with dynamic relationships between the choir leader and the choir leading.

PIA BYGDÉUS is a Ph D student at Malmö Academy of Music, Lund University, teacher and Art director (Director musices) at Linnæus University, Sweden. She also works as freelancer. Pia Bygdéus has many years of experience as a pianist for both chamber music and big band, as a conductor for both instrumental ensembles and choirs, and as a teacher. She also works for Swedish Radio as a music producer, with recording different kinds of music as orchestral music, choir music, chamber music, jazz and world music. In her research, Bygdéus studies how the professional role of choir directors is combined in their professional development as individuals as well as at a collective level. Previously she has studied the conceptual distinctions between leadership, pedagogy and conducting and continues, with this earlier research in mind, to investigate the practise of choir leaders and their professional role.

TOMAS CAPLIN (SWEDEN)

How does 2+2 become 5, in a musical context? + (L)(E)
(Thomas Caplin – Stig Eriksen)

The purpose of this presentation is to explain why we consider it imperative for the leader of a music ensemble to conduct "the whole human being". By reflecting on current practice in the field of conducting and up-to-date theory on pedagogical psychology, we explicate what we see as perhaps the biggest contributions of the Gestalt method:

- The insight into how everything influences the singers and the conductor in mutual interaction
- How the whole and the musical result can amount to both less and more than the sum of the individual factors involved.

The presentation will be conducted in a dialogue form between Assistant Professor of Pedagogy Stig Eriksen and Professor of Music Thomas Caplin, Hedmark University College, Hamar, Norway.

THOMAS CAPLIN (born in 1960) Professor in choral conducting and management. Mr Caplin received his education as a singer, conductor and choral pedagogue at the Royal Academy of Music in Copenhagen and at the Royal Academy of Music in Stockholm. He is frequently engaged as guest conductor and clinician, and as adjudicator in competitions in Norway and abroad. His publications include books on choral conducting in Sweden and Norway, as well as a number of compositions, arrangements and CD recordings.

In 2004 he was awarded the recognition "Choral Director of the Year" by the Norwegian Choral Directors' Association. He has received international recognitions for his leadership of the following choirs: The Lund University Male Choir (prominent male choir from University of Lund, Sweden, World Choir champions in Shaoxing in 2010), Chamber Choir CollegiumVocale (Norway) and Oslo University Male Choir (World Choir Champion in Xiamen, China 2006). Internationally he is in the steering committee for the IFCM mentor program "Conductors Without Borders", and is the Norwegian representative in the Interkultur World Choir Council. His present employment is Professor in music at the Hedmark University College, Hamar (Norway).

URSULA GEISLER (SWEDEN)

Choral meanings in the 20th century in Sweden and Germany • (L)(E)

Singing societies and choirs have played an important role in the development of the modern nation states in Europe since the end of the 18th century. In the development of state education systems, singing was often given a prominent place, and administrators made certain they would be able to take advantage of the much discussed community-shaping qualities of singing, which up to then had been in the domain of the church and local congregations. This secularisation of sacred vocal representation (doxology) laid the foundation for the high status that choir and community singing enjoyed in the nation-forming processes. Singing societies in the 19th century and choirs in the 20th century were not only musical associations, but to a large extent visible signs that satisfied the need of symbols of transcendence in modern society.

The unfolding of choral history and the development of pedagogical ideas largely depend on a combination of social and musical factors. Choral representation of societal change does emerge at different historical periods in the European countries – for example in connection with the French Revolution, which was a kind of European starting point for the national connotations of community singing, as it did, for example, from the 1820s onwards in Germany in order to unite the federal states in one nation, in Sweden after World War II with the 'Swedish choral miracle' as the country's contemporary musical voice, and in the Baltic States around 1989 with the 'Singing Revolution'.

In the paper, I will discuss several of these 20th century 'meanings' from a transnational perspective with particular emphasis on Germany and Sweden. A comparative perspective is meaningful because of the particular status that choral singing enjoys in both countries.

URSULA GEISLERS thesis Gesang und nationale Gemeinschaft. Zur kulturellen Konstruktion von schwedischem "folksång" und deutscher "Nationalhymne" (Nomos 2001) focused on transnational aspects of singing and questions of song, community and national identity. In this Swedish-German perspective several choir and chorus aspects in Europe were included from the French Revolution until the end of World War II. The thesis was one result of the Swedish-German research programme 'The Cultural Construction of Community in the Process of Modernisation in Sweden and Germany'. In her research Geisler focuses mainly on transnational music aspects and the history and development of musical ideas as well as music transformations in society. As a member of the research programme 'Sweden's Relations with Nazism, Nazi Germany and the Holocaust' (Svenaz) Geisler published a range of articles on musical topics in a Swedish-German perspective. Geisler is board member of the Swedish Society for Musicology and member of the German Society for Musicology. Together with Dr Karin Johansson, Malmö Academy of Music, Lund University, she has initiated the international research network Choir in Focus in 2008. The network is based at Körcentrum Syd in the south of Sweden (The Southern Choral Centre, www.korcentrumsyd.se) and draws together more than 15 researchers from six European countries (DE, DK, FR, NO, SE, UK). Several high standard meetings and publications are the outcome of the network so far. Geisler has for instance compiled a Choral Research Bibliography in the year 2010 which is freely accessible on the Choral Centre's homepage: <http://www.korcentrumsyd.se/wp-content/uploads/Geisler-+2010Choral-ResearchA-Global-Bibliography.pdf>

Dječja klapa u izvannastavnim aktivnostima u osnovnoj školi • (L)(CRO)

Izvannastavne aktivnosti su za učenike dragovoljni i iziskuju dodatni trud i napor. Cilj je takve nastave i izvannastavnih sadržaja da budu što zanimljiviji, motivirajući za učenike i iznad svoga kvalitetno koncipirani. Njima treba vladati srdačno ozračje koje motivirajuće djeluje na razvoj učenikovih mogućnosti i afiniteta svakom pojedinačno. To je oblik nastave na koju učenici, odabравši ju sami, dolaze rado i s koje odlaze zadovoljni, s korisnim znanjima i sposobnostima individualnog i skupnog muziciranja. Njegujući tradiciju, zadnjih dvadeset godina, glazbeni pedagozi počeli su osnivati Djeće klape u okviru izvannastavnih aktivnosti u Osnovnim školama. To su vokalne skupine učenika (djekočica ili dječaka) koje najčešće broje od 8 do 14 pjevača u dobi od 10 do 15 godina. Glasovna postava je takva da uglavnom tri do četiri učenika pjevaju u dionici prvog, drugog i trećeg glasa. Radeći s vokalnom skupinom, tijekom vremena učitelj prepoznaće učenika unutar dionice prvog glasa koji će pjevati melodijsku liniju vodećeg glasa. Skupno muziciranje (pjevanje u klapi) omogućava djeci socijalnu integraciju i pripadnost grupi, što pomaže u njihovu razvoju i formirajući osobnosti. Razvija se osjećaj za timski rad i uvažavanje i razumijevanje okoline. Pjevanjem u klapi se putem iskustvenog učenja jasnije razumije glazbena tradicija i potiče se razvijanje individualnosti mladog čovjeka. Započeti nešto, znači prethodno razmišljati o tome i željeti to. Započeti nešto i biti uspješan u razvijanju započetog, znači posjedovati vještina koju smo radeći marljivo razvijali, vođeni iskrenom ljubavi prema glazbi i učiteljskom pozivu za koji smo se na jednom od životnih raskršća opredjelili. I ovaj narod hrvatski je Pramajka svojih pjesama, a Otac b' jezik i načini govora ovoga puka, pa duša pjesme i njezin govor žive u stoljetnim brakovima. Ovdje povijest zastaje da bi iskazala činjenice, a i pučani-pjevači da bi objavili ljepotu, da kroz guse velove varljivih činjenica iznjedre pjev u kojem ćemo naslutiti i istinu o nedobovljivim činjenicama. Napjevi i skladbe ostaju na svijetu i poslije smrti svojih prvih neznanih i znanih roditelja, da kroz akorde (lat. ad cor – k srcu) ištu ljepotu, a nalaze ljepotu i istinu. Pa kao da napjev počne potpuno živjeti, dapače, rodi se istinski tek nekada u budućnosti, poslije svojega rođenja i poslije smrti svojih anonymnih roditelja... Stoga, u ovim pjesmama ne žive samo oni prvotni začetnici, već generacije koje su ih nadahnuto prenosile i pronosile, i pokoljenja koja će se tek roditi i navrijeme prihvati ostavštinu prethodnih. Eto, ovdje su u pjevu naši pučki neznani Praroditelji, naši dični pređi, pivaoci s čađava komina ovoga puka delmatskoga (Ljubo Stipišić Delmata).

ANITA GERGORIĆ – viša savjetnica za glazbenu kulturu i glazbenu umjetnost, rođena Terlević u Rijeci 22. 03. 1974. Osnovnu i srednju školu završava Glazbenoj školi Ivan Matetić Ronjgov u Rijeci. Studira u Puli na odsjeku Glazbene kulture Sveučilišta u Rijeci i stječe zvanje profesora glazbene kulture. Diplomirala je u klasi profesora Miroslava Homena na temu "Rad s dječjim pjevačkim zborom". Po završetku studija glazbeno-pedagoškim radom djeluje u Glazbenoj školi Ivana Matetića Ronjgova, u OŠ Škurinje i u OŠ Vežica u Rijeci. U OŠ Vežica u okviru izvannastavnih aktivnosti vodi Glazbenu radio-nicu i dječji pjevački zbor pod nazivom Vežički tići s kojima aktivno sudjeluje na kulturnim manifestacijama grada Rijeke i Primorsko – goranske županije, smotri Djeće glazbene čarolije, Mali kanat, dječjem festivalu Kvarnerić na kojem s ansablom dobiva nagrade stručnog suda s pjesmom Prva ljubav 2003., nagradu publike s pjesmom Skuter 2004., nagradu publike i nagradu stručnog suda za najbolju interpretaciju s pjesmom Mobitel 2005. godine. Na natjecanju Europa u školi Glazbena radionica, čiji je mentor, osvaja 2. nagradu na Državnoj razini s pjesmom Miris mora i lipe 2006. godine. Autor je zbirke dječjih pjesama Vežički tići koju prati i nosač zvuka pod istim nazivom. U razdoblju od 2001. – 2005. članica je Ženske klape Luka iz Rijeke u kojoj pjeva dionicu II sopранa i s kojom aktivno djeluje u zemlji i inozemstvu. Od 2006. godina zaposlena je u Agenciji za odgoj i obrazovanje na mjestu više savjetnice za glazbenu kulturu i glazbenu umjetnost. U tom periodu organizira stručne skupove za profesore klavira

s istaknutim umjetnicima Konstantinom Boginom i Eugenom Indjicem. Za učitelje glazbene kulture i nastavnike glazbene umjetnosti organizira stručne skupove na međužupanijskoj i državnoj razini ostvarujući suradnju s istaknutim stručnjacima i znanstvenicima na području glazbene pedagogije i glazbene umjetnosti. S maestrom Ljubom Stipišićem Delmatom surađivala je dugi niz godina, provodeći edukaciju učitelja za vođenje dječjih klapa na stručnim skupovima u Opatiji i Splitu. Tajnica je Državnog povjerenstva natjecanja pjevačkih zborova Varaždinske svečanosti hrvatske mlađeži u Varaždinu.

The Viennese Choral School (Wiener Chorschule): Nurturing young talent – hands-on student learning – scientific study • (L)(E)

This lecture presents the twofold mission of the Viennese Choral School (Wiener Chorschule) and the results of a scholarly study. The Vienna Choral School was founded in 2009 to fulfill a twofold mission. First, it introduces talented children and adolescents to the art and joy of singing and music and prepares them for lifelong involvement in music. Second, it gives music pedagogy students hands-on experience working and making music with children and adolescents. This lecture also presents an extensive scientific study of the impact of choral singing on vocal development, tracing youth participants during the course and for several years thereafter. This is the first time the results of this study will be presented to a broader audience (www.wiener-chorschule.at).

ALOIS GLASSNER (born in 1963 in Austria), Professor of Conducting at the University of Music and Performing Arts Vienna (MDW) and Chair of the university's Anton Bruckner Institute of Music Theory, Aural Training and Ensemble Direction. Artistic Director of the Salzburg Bach Choir. Alois Glaßner studied church music, organ, voice pedagogy, conducting and choral pedagogy at MDW and under Eric Ericson in Stockholm. In 1987 he founded the Hugo Distler Choir Vienna (Hugo Distler Chor Wien), which developed into one of the leading choirs in Austria during its ten years of existence. From 1993–2005 he directed the church music program at the St Augustine Church in Vienna, continuing a long and rich tradition. In 2003, Glaßner became the Artistic Director of the Salzburg Bach Choir (Salzburger Bachchor). Under his direction, the ensemble has become a regular partner of all of the important music festivals in Salzburg and has performed with world-class orchestras such as the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra, the Mozarteum Orchestra and Camerata Salzburg, under renowned conductors such as Riccardo Muti, Sir Roger Norrington, Ivor Bolton and Marc Minkowski. Alois Glaßner is also a guest conductor, clinician and adjudicator in choral competitions, and regularly leads seminars and master courses in Austria and abroad.

Pokret i zborsko pjevanje • (L)(CRO)

Razloga zašto pjevači dolaze na zborske probe ima nekoliko. Zasigurno su to kako glazba tako i druženje. Pjevanjem se čovjek emocionalizira iz nutra prema van. Vanjska se emocionalizacija manifestira u pokretu koji na makro-planu prikazuje unutarnja mikro-zbivanja. Pjevanje i sviranje također potiču na tjelesno kretanje. No, i samo slušanje glazbe može izazvati potrebu za kretanjem (ples). Stoga je tjelesno kretanje neraskidivo povezano s muziciranjem i pjevanjem. Nakana je prikazati pojavnost tjelesnoga kretanja kod zborskoga pjevanja. Analizirat će se spontana i koreografirana kretanja pjevača na pokusima i nastupima. Danas je uvriježen naziv za zbor koji spaja pjevanje s uvežbanim pokretima 'koreografirani zbor'. Takvi su zborski nastupi vrlo popularni u svijetu i dokaz su da se i zborska glazba i zborsko muziciranje mogu dalje razvijati te pratiti suvremena popularna umjetnička kretanja. Na taj se način povećava zadovoljstvo kod pjevača i kod publike. Tako i samo zborsko pjevanje može postati zanimljivije i privlačnije znatno većem broj ljudi nego kada je izvedba 'neelastična' i pomalo statična jer je za očekivati da će se povećati zanimanje ljudi za pjevanje u zboru. Time zborska umjetnost i nadalje može biti značajan čimbenik sveopćega kulturnog razvoja.

HEDA GOSPODNETIĆ je rođena u Zagrebu, gdje je diplomirala teoretsko-pedagoški odjel na Muzičkoj akademiji. Završila je dvije godine dirigiranja i kolegij Uđaraljke. Magistrirala je solfeggio na Fakultetu za muzičku umjetnost u Beogradu i diplomirala orgulje na Institutu za crkvenu glazbu Katoličkog bogoslovnog fakulteta u Zagrebu. Završila je Školu za ritmiku i ples u Zagrebu. Predavala je glazbu i ritmiku na osnovnim, srednjim i glazbenim školama. Više od trideset godina radi na Učiteljskom fakultetu gdje predaje Glazbenu kulturu, Metodiku glazbene kulture, Gitaru i Instrumentalnu pratinju s pjevanjem. Od 1971. djeluje u Vokalnom ansamblu V. Lisinski u kojem je osnovala Renesansni ansambl i Canticum. Vodila ih je od osnutka do 2006., a i dalje je korepetitor, koreograf, režiser i pjevač u Ansamblu. Bila je korepetitor i voditelj i drugih zagrebačkih zborova.

CHRISTIAN HERBST (AUSTRIA)

1. The sound source in singing: acoustical and physiological principles” • (L)(E)

The source of the human voice originates in the larynx and is generated by the vibrating vocal folds. This lecture is a basic tutorial, explaining the properties of the glottal sound source: regularity/irregularity, fundamental frequency, spectral slope, noise components, and subharmonics. In particular, it will be shown how vocal fold vibration is converted into sound via the glottal flow, and how the individual properties of the sound source can influence the voice timbre.

2. Control of sound source properties in singing • (L)(E)

In this presentation, the physiological control over the sound source properties, as explained in the previous lecture, will be discussed. It will be shown how the glottal timbre can be manipulated by contraction of individual muscles or groups of muscles in the larynx. This knowledge is crucial for pedagogical concepts in various singing styles, allowing to shape the sound of both individual voices and entire choirs.

CHRISTIAN T. HERBST, born 1970, is an Austrian biophysicist and voice pedagogue. He graduated from the University Mozarteum Salzburg. He worked as a voice teacher for the Salzburg Cathedral Boys Choir, the federal music school of Salzburg, and the Tölzer Knabenchor, Munich. Since 2009, Christian Herbst is a member of the Laboratory of Bioacoustics, Department of Cognitive Biology, University of Vienna. The scientific work of Christian Herbst is concerned with sound production in mammals, with a special focus on the physiology of the singing voice. He published several award-winning papers on laryngeal configurations and electroglottography. He is currently defending his doctoral dissertation "Investigation of glottal configurations in singing" at the Department of Biophysics, University of Olomouc (www.christian-herbst.org).

Laryngopharyngeal reflux in Choristers and Teachers • (L)(E)

Assoc. Prof. Irena Hočevar-Boltežar, MD, PhD*, Maja Šereg-Bahar, MD, MSc*, Alenka Kravos, MD, MSc, Assist. Prof. Gordana Mumović, MD, PhD, Assist. Prof. Slobodan Mitrović, MD, PhD

Background. An occupation-related susceptibility to gastroesophageal reflux (GER) has been suggested. Abdominal support associated with singing or prolonged and loud talking make the vocal performers more susceptible to acute vocal change from LPR.

Study. One hundred and nineteen professional opera choristers completed a questionnaire about their dietary habits, height and weight, presence of stress, and allergies, including the nine-item Reflux Symptom Index (RSI). The choristers were compared to a group of 70 teachers and 86 subjects with other professions with regard to their sex, age, dietary habits, body-mass index and other factors affecting voice quality. The singers with probable LPR were compared to the other singers, and all subjects with suspected LPR from all groups were compared to the subjects without LPR.

Results. The results showed significantly higher RSI scores in the choristers than in the teachers and in the controls, but the number of subjects with suspected LPR (RSI score > 13) did not differ significantly between the groups. The choristers significantly more often sought medical help, took medicaments for LPR, were overweight, ate spicy food and smoked than the teachers and the controls. Having knowledge about LPR did not significantly influence their eating habits. Frequently experiencing stress was the only factor that influenced some RSI items and the total RSI score.

Conclusions. LPR affects both groups of vocal professionals (choristers and teachers), although some extraesophageal symptoms were probably more bothersome for the former than for the latter. More intensive education of professional singers and other vocal professionals about factors affecting voice quality is necessary.

AIDA ISLAM (MACEDONIA)

Choral Art in Republic of Macedonia Trough The Activities of Two Choral Conductors (Aida Islam - Stefanija Leshkova Zelenkovska) • (L)(CRO)

The art of choral conducting has a long tradition in Macedonia. The evolutionary path of choral practice starts at the beginning of the XIX century with the establishment of the first church choirs. In the second half of XIX century, the activity of the first school and city music societies represent the core of the overall music life. Many individuals are worthy for that, among which the prominent place is for the composer and choir conductor Atanas Badev. The number of choirs increases between the two world wars, mainly because of the possibility to perform harmonized Macedonian folk songs in native language, which is banned in other spheres of public life. At the time of the rise of choir amateurism, the first generation of educated musicians composers lead the way, who also work as choral conductors. The professional music institutions that are formed shortly after the Second world war initiate forming of the first professional choirs, among which stands out the chorus of Radio Skopje, as a driving power for the development of choral performing arts and promoting of the choral works. Rise of the choral art continues through the work of professional choral conductors educated in the surrounding music centers. The most distinguished place is reserved for Dragan Shuplevski who, in addition to the outstanding conductor activity, with the establishment of the Faculty of Music Art, sets up and runs choral conductor school. From many students that he taught, today as active conductors stand out Ivica Zoric and Saso Tatarchevski. The purpose of this paper is to portray their work under the conditions of declining interest in choral art in this environment. Through the professional approach and enthusiasm they succeed in continuing the several decades of choral tradition with the choral practice and pedagogy.

AIDA ISLAM was born in Skopje in 1966. She graduated at the Faculty of Music Art in Skopje - Piano Department. 2002 finishes the M. A. degree in the area of Theory of Interpretation. She received her Ph.D. in 2005, titled "Reflections of the Ottoman Music Culture on Contemporary Music Culture of the Turkish Community in the Republic of Macedonia" in the Faculty of Music, Skopje. In the period 1987-2001 works as Piano teacher in High Music School "Ilija Nikolovski Luj" Skopje. Since 2001 Aida Islam works as a professor at the Faculty of Pedagogy "St. Clement Ohridski" in Skopje where she gives lectures in Musical Instruments and Basics of Music Education with Methodic. Aida Islam has participated in numerous domestic and international conferences. Her researches are engaged in many areas like: music education, music tradition and sociology of music. Some of the published manuscripts in the international journals are: "The Role of Music Education in Preserving Traditions in a Multiethnic Society" – International Journal of Multidisciplinary Thought, ISSN: 2156-6992 (2011), "Influence of Social Determinants in Preferences of Public Audience at Music Performances in the Republic of Macedonia" – Sociology Study ISSN 2159-5526 January 2012, Vol. 2, Nr. 1. Aida Islam has published three books: "Macedonian Pianistic Art and Pedagogy", "The Tonal Sistem of Turkish Music", "The Cultural Roll of the Turkish Music Department at Radio Skopje".

1. Sound propagation of the singing voice + (L)(E)

One may have mentioned different voice timbres of singers or speakers depending on the direction of the listener relative to the sound source to perceive the sound. The reason for this phenomenon is the directivity of a human being, which describes the propagation of sound to different directions in the surrounding of a singer. The results of this dependency on the acoustic properties of a person's geometry will be presented by various 3-dim spherical plots for a large amount of frequencies. Consequences for practice and concert situations of singers and choirs will be discussed; this lecture is in close relation to and may be useful for the workshop "directivity, formation and spacing in choir singing".

2. Directivity, formation and spacing in choir singing • (W)(E)

Very often the acoustics of a room or concert hall influences the artistic result of choirs very much. This workshop will give some basics of the propagation of sound and some fundamental knowledge about room acoustics. With this background and in combination with the awareness of the directivity of singers it is possible to draw conclusions for the formation of choirs in different rooms or for varying choir pieces. Furthermore the distance between singers plays an important role, which will be demonstrated on stage. This workshop gives a tool for conductors to choose the best position of singers in a choir and helps to understand the coherences between timbre, intonation and placement of a choir.

HARALD JERS completed his studies in conducting and a teaching degree in music and song, church music and physics in Cologne, Aachen, Düsseldorf and Stockholm. In choral conducting he deepened and expanded his knowledge by participation in international master classes and collaboration with numerous international conductors and composers. His professional activity as a conductor of orchestras and choirs, together with invitations to appear as guest conductor have taken him on concert tours throughout Europe, Asia and the USA. Harald Jers is a lecturer at the University of Music and Dance in Cologne, in the Dioceses of Cologne and Aachen, at a number of music academies and at international symposia and music festivals; he is also a visiting lecturer at several European universities of music, and a juror at international choral competitions. He teaches choral conducting, song, vocal training and acoustics, and in addition gives numerous courses in conducting. He has received a commission from the EU to carry out research and has been awarded the first prize of the Acoustical Society of America for his research in the field of choral acoustics, which produced significant scientific results for musical practice. He has also won the conductors' prize at the European Grand Prix for Choral Singing in Debrecen, Hungary (www.haraldjers.de).

RUŽICA KAPITAN (CROATIA)

Rad s dječjim zborovima mlađeg i starijeg uzrasta u osnovnoj školi • (L)(CRO)

Pripremajući izlaganje za ovaj simpozij otvorila sam ogromnu ladicu sjećanja vezanih uz dugogodišnje glazbeno pedagoško iskustvo u vođenju dječjih zborova različitih uzrasta i kategorija u osnovnoj školi i to: „Varaždinski slavuji“ – dječji zbor VI. OŠ Varaždin (mlađi uzrast); Dječji zbor starijeg uzrasta VI. OŠ Varaždin Pjevački zbor „Millenium“ Varaždin (djekočki zbor); Dječji zbor V. OŠ Varaždin (stariji uzrast); Dječji zbor mlađeg uzrasta OŠ Tužno; Dječji zbor starijeg uzrasta OŠ Tužno. Navedeni zborovi odigrali su istaknutu ulogu u mom životu te smo zajedno postizali visoke rezultate i umjetničke dosege, a kao prilog tome govori poda-tak da smo na državnim natjecanjima – Glazbenim svečanostima hrvatske mladeži osvojili ukupno 32 plakete (zlatne i srebrne). Vođena beskrajnim entuzijazmom nisam posustajala ni u najtežim situacijama, svladavajući prepreke i slijedeći moto „Per aspera ad astra“. Rezultati nisu izostali, jer djeca znaju prepoznati učiteljev entuzijazam i vraćaju nam koliko i primaju od nas. Samo onaj zborovođa koji je istinski zaljubljenik u glazbu i zborsko pjevanje može svoj entuzijazam prenijeti na svoje učenike, steći njihovo povjerenje, ljubav i odanost te ih oduševiti i animirati za pjevanje u zboru. Pri tom je važno postaviti jasne ciljeve:

- sadržajno korištenje slobodnog vremena, radost zajedničkog muziciranja te ljepota druženja uz glazbu (na probama i nastupima)
- putem zajedničkog muziciranja razvijati sposobnosti tolerancije i međusobnog poštovanja
- razvijanje glazbenih potencijala učenika te stvaranje pozitivnog ozračja
- promicati glazbu putem javne djelatnosti (nastupi) i utjecati na unapređenje glazbene kulture u sredini u kojoj škola djeluje
- njegovanjem smisla za zajedničko muziciranje razvijati kod učenika potrebu za samostalnim aktivnim sudjelovanjem u različitim glazbenim aktivnostima u školi, izvan i nakon nje, što će učenicima omogućiti kontinuirani nastavak aktivnog muziciranja u drugom ansamblu i nakon završetka osnovne škole (srednjoškolski zbor, zbor KUD-a i sl.)
- obogaćivanje dječjih spoznaja o glazbi, razvijanje osjećaja poštovanja i brige za glazbenu baštinu te svekolika otvorenost umjetnosti
- razvijanje estetskog i emocionalnog nazora poimanja glazbe te širenje horizonta opće kulture

Nakon što ste djecu animirali za pjevanje i održali audicije, trebate dogovoriti vrijeme predviđeno za probe zbora te već prije početka uvježbavanja programa imati viziju onog što želite i točno znati kako to postići, a to već ulazi u sferu stručnih kompetencija zborovođe i njegove stručne edukacije. Kod izbora programa veliku ulogu odigrat će pravilno odabran, primjereno uzrastu i sastavu zbora zanimljiv i raznolik repertoar skladbi različitih stilskih izričaja. Posebnu pažnju treba posvetiti njegovaju vokalne tehnike pjevanja, impostaciji glasa, čistoći intonacije, dikticiji, njegovanosti zborskog zvuka, razlikovanju stilova, izraza, proporcija u zborskim dionicama te međusobnoj homogenosti zvuka. Dječje oduševljenje za pjevanje u zboru postat će trajnije ako postoji motivacija u vidu radosti zajedničkog muziciranja i druženja ne samo na probama, već i na javnim nastupima i putovanjima, pri čemu veliku ulogu mogu odigrati i mediji. Kao primjer motivacije i oduševljenja navest će Pjevački zbor „Millenium“ (djevojački zbor), čije su članice bile moje bivše učenice te ranije pjevale u dječjim zborovima, a oduševljene glazbom i nakon završetka osnovne škole nastavile pjevati u „Milleniumu“. Važno je napomenuti da zborovođa mora biti i dobar organizator te znati ostvarivati suradnju s raznim institucijama u oblasti kulture, medijima, kao i užom i širom društvenom zajednicom, počevši od suradnje sa stručnim službama škole te roditeljima učenika, članova zbora. Kada bi me netko danas upitao koji od zborova mi je najdraži, odgovorila bih da su mi svi pjevači koji su prodefilirali kroz bilo koji od mojih zborova ostali u jednakom dragom sjećanju. Veseli me kada se nakon nekoliko godina sretнемo i kada mi mnogi od njih kažu da im je pjevanje u zboru bilo jedno prekrasno životno iskustvo.

RUŽICA KAPITAN, glazbena pedagoginja i zborna dirigentica, rođena je u Varaždinu, gdje i danas živi i djeluje. Osnovnu školu, osnovnu i srednju Glazbenu školu završila je u Varaždinu, a studij glazbene kulture na Višoj pedagoškoj akademiji u Čakovcu. Na početku svoje glazbeno-pedagoške karijere kao glazbeni pedagog najprije je djelovala u osnovnoj Glazbenoj školi u Koprivnici, zatim u Osnovnoj školi Tužno, iza toga u V. te danas u VI.osnovnoj školi Varaždin. Tijekom dosadašnjeg radnog vijeka 1996.g. promaknuta je u zvanje mentora te od 1999.g. u zvanje savjetnika, a 2001.g. imenovana je za voditeljicu županijskog Stručnog vijeća učitelja glazbene kulture te je tu funkciju obnašala punih 10 godina. Na stručnim skupovima za učitelje glazbene kulture često je kao predavač održavala stručna predavanja i radionice, a osim toga piše i recenzije udžbenika za glazbenu kulturu u osnovnoj školi. Dugi niz godina član je Državnog povjerenstva za provedbu Glazbenih svečanosti hrvatske mladeži te član Županijskog odbora Smotre glazbenog stvaralaštva djece i mladeži Varaždinske županije kao i Upravnog odbora Glazbene mladeži Varaždina. U svom glazbeno-pedagoškom radu posebnu pozornost uvijek je posvećivala stručnom usavršavanju te bila sudionicom mnogih simpozija i stručnih skupova za učitelje glazbene kulture i dirigente pjevačkih zborova u Hrvatskoj i svijetu, koje su održavali eminentni glazbeni pedagozi, dirigenti i umjetnici poput maestra Vladimira Kranjčevića, Branka Rajštera, Sergija Rainisa, Igora Kuljerića, Klause Jürgena Etzolda, Richarda Frosticka, Saše Britvića, Branka Starca, Karmine Šilec i mnogih drugih. Sudjelovala je tako i na europskom simpoziju za zborsku glazbu u Ljubljani 1995. godine, gdje je prošla dirigentske tečajeve kod poznatih zborovođa Erica Ericsona iz Švedske, Naomi Faran iz Izraela te Josepa Vile iz Španjolske. Čitav svoj dosadašnji radni vijek ulagala je u mlade, šireći odgojnu vrijednost glazbe i prenašajući ljubav za glazbu svojim učenicima pa su mnogi od njih glazbu odabrali kao profesionalno buduće opredjeljenje te uspješno nastavljaju školovanje u Glazbenoj školi, a kasnije na Glazbenoj akademiji.

Svojim glazbeno-pedagoškim i umjetničkim radom na razvoju i unapređenju glazbene kulture uvijek je postizala visoke odgojne i obrazovne rezultate u redovnoj nastavi te izvannastavnim i izvanškolskim aktivnostima, a naročito u vođenju pjevačkih zborova (djecijskih i djevojačkih) u svim školama u kojima je radila, kao i u široj društvenoj zajednici. Od 1980.g. pa nadalje gotovo da nije bilo ni jedne Smotre glazbenog stvaralaštva na županijskom nivou te Glazbenih svečanosti hrvatske mladeži (državno natjecanje) na kojima nije nastupio pjevački zbor pod njenim vodstvom. Dapače, često se na takvim smotrama i natjecanjima pojavljuje kao dirigentica-sudionica natjecanja sa više zborova, a da je riječ o jednoj od naših najtrofejnijih dirigentica govori i podatak da su pjevački zborovi pod njenim vodstvom na državnim natjecanjima osvojili ukupno 32 plakete i to: 12 zlatnih, 18 srebrnih i 2 brončane, a na županijskim natjecanjima 19 prvih mjesta. Pjevački zborovi koje je oformila i postizala iznimne rezultate: Varaždinski slavuji – dječji zbor VI. OŠ Varaždin (mladi uzrast); Dječji zbor starijeg uzrasta VI. OŠ Varaždin; Pjevački zbor »Millenium« Varaždin (djevojački zbor); Dječji zbor V. osnovne škole Varaždin (stariji uzrast); Dječji zbor mlađeg uzrasta OŠ Tužno; Dječji zbor starijeg uzrasta OŠ Tužno. Za svoj javni kulturni te iznimani glazbeno-pedagoški i stručni rad dobitnica je mnogih priznanja i nagrada (Ministrovo priznanje – 2003.g. (za uspješan kvalitetan i kreativan rad); Državna „Nagrada Ivan Filipović“ – 1997.g. (za promicanje pedagoške teorije i prakse); „Spomenica domovinske zahvalnosti“ – 1997.g. (odlikovanje predsjednika RH); Nagrada Varaždinske županije za doprinos ugledu i promociji Varaždinske županije u zemlji i svijetu – 1997.g. dani rad i doprinos u školskom glazbenom odgoju i zborskom pjevanju); Županijska nagrada povodom Svjetskog dana učitelja – 2003.g. The Works of Ali Ufkî Bey (Albert – Wojciech Bobowski) who Use the Western Noting System in Turkish Music for the First Time and His Importance in the History of Turkish Music ◊ (L)(E)

Real name of Ali Ufkî Bey, a Polish (Poland) origin musician with an important place in the history of Turkish music is Albert / Wojciech Bobowski. In 1610, he was born in the city of Lwow / Lviv in the Galicia region in the Middle Europe that is currently located within the borders of Ukraine. Considering his works and abilities, he is assumed to come from an aristocrat family and thus receive a perfect education. During the reign of Sultan Murat the IV'th he was captured by Tatars of Crimea who invade to inner Poland and was brought to İstanbul. Perhaps Ali Ufkî Bey drew attention through his ability and the education he has received and was engaged to the services in the palace. Again, he was sent to Enderun, the educational institute of the palace thanks to his abilities and learned Turkish music and how to play the instrument of dulcimer. His musical knowledge about the previous period, his information about the western music and his application of this writing system in Turkish music were appreciated and he was appointed as "Erbaşı", the head of the choir consisting of ry page boys in the musical room of the Enderun. We also know that Ali Ufkî Bey who lived in the Ottoman Palace for 19 years knew 17 different foreign languages. Thanks to his this ability, he was the second translator of Divan-ı Hümeyun for a while and translated some works from foreign sources into Turkish. Kitab-ı Mukaddes is one of his preliminary translations. The most important work Ali Ufkî Bey who has written on languages, religion and music is Mecmua-yı Sâz ü Söz (The Journal of Music and Speaking). In this book, the writer used the western notes in the Ottoman writing style, from right to the left and he used Ottoman letters in the treble clef. Also in the book, there are forms such as preludes, semais, classical music songs, ballads and hymns that reflect the musical comprehension of the period. This work which has a single copy is in the British Museum in London. In this study, the place and importance of Ali Ufkî Bey as a composer, performer and writer in the history of Turkish music considering his life and other works, especially 'Mecmua-yı Sâz ü Söz' will be discussed.

Povezanost jezika i glazbe – dijalog između dvije umjetnosti • (L)(CRO)
(Nataša Klarić Bonacci – Maura Filippi)

Povezanost jezika i glazbe te njihov odnos na području vokalne glazbe predmetom je istraživanja brojnih stručnjaka- u prvom redu muzikologa, zatim lingvista i književnika. Svijest o njihovoj povezanosti seže još u doba Platona koji u svom djelu "Država" pjevanje opisuje kao 'spoj tri elementa: riječi, melodije i mjere' i prema kojem se govorno u glazbi ne razlikuje od govornog u jeziku, budući da se i glazba sklada prema istom obrascu (tekstu), dok tonalitet i takt imaju ulogu slijediti govor. Glazba stoga nije ništa drugo nego 'prebrazba govorâ', podizanje govora na višu razinu te samim time u neposrednoj ovisnosti o jeziku. Ovaj rad proučava razine na kojima se u vokalnoj glazbi jezik prenosi u glazbu i unutar toga sve elemente i sredstva, u većoj ili manjoj mjeri zajedničke jeziku i glazbi, kojima se kompozitor služi pri uglazbljivanju. Uz neizbjegnu 'zvučnu' razinu, kojom se neposredno u glazbu prenose obama medijima zajednički elementi (ton, ritam, melodija i sl.), prisutna je i "semantička" razina, kojom kompozitor prenosi sadržaj i značenje. Na koji će način i uporabom kojih glazbenih elemenata i kompozitor prenijeti značenje i sadržaj uvelike ovisi o njegovom vlastitom razumijevanju istoga i namjeri da njegove određene dijelove istakne ili ne. Naponslijetu, budući da je svako povjesno glazbeno razdoblje imalo različita obilježja, te se služilo određenim, za svako razdoblje specifičnim glazbenim sredstvima pri uglazbljivanju teksta za razumijevanje obje – a posebice 'semantičke' – razine, cjelokupnu je analizu potrebno smjestiti u povjesni kontekst. Prikazana analiza stoga je ograničena na razdoblje unutar kojeg se jezik u glazbu prenosi kao cjelina, a to je od početka renesanse pa do današnjih dana.

NATAŠA KLARIĆ BONACCI rođena u Šibeniku 1977. godine, gdje završava osnovnu školu, jezičnu gimnaziju i srednju glazbenu školu (smjer violina). 1995. upisuje studij germanistike i fonetike na Filozofskom fakultetu Sveučilišta u Zagrebu. Od 2002. godine zaposlena je u Polinici SUVAG kao fonetski muzičar-rehabilitator. Tijekom i nakon studija sudjelovala je u radu Govorničke škole Ive Škarića kao mentorica-nastavnica retorike. CHRIS KRAMPE (USA)

Boris Papandopulo – ‘Hrvatska misa’ • (L)(E)

Boris Papandopulo (1906-1991) was one of Croatia's most recognized and internationally acclaimed musical figures during the twentieth century. He was a teacher, conductor, and music critic. He is remembered primarily, however, for his abundant compositional output. Papandopulo's music is at once imaginative, technically masterful, and innovative. Perhaps the most interesting time in his compositional career from the standpoint of artistic development is the six year period from 1932-1938, during which time Papandopulo, having already achieved recognition and critical acclaim for his compositional skill, entered a new artistic dimension through the synthesis of Croatian folk elements, Dalmatian sacred music, and twentieth-century Western art music. The Croatian choral tradition offered an ideal musical medium for this creative transformation, and it is no coincidence that during this period, three of his major choral works are composed: The Golden-Winged Duck (1932); The Passion of Our Lord (1936); Croatian Mass (1938). These three works are significant Croatian contributions to the choral repertory, but Croatian Mass specifically stands out for its vast scope and ingenuity. This paper will place Papandopulo's Croatian Mass within its historical and stylistic contexts. After a brief biography of Boris Papandopulo, a musical analysis of Croatian Mass will be presented which focuses on Papandopulo's use of Croatian folk music and Dalmatian spiritual music as dynamic stylistic elements.

CHRIS KRAMPE received his undergraduate degree in Church Music from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, in 2004, and his master's degree in Church Music from the University of Kansas in 2009. He has studied and coached with internationally recognized organists including Marie Claire-Alain, Karel Paukert, James Higdon, and Carl Staplin. In 2003 Chris took second place in the nation for organ at the Music Teachers' National Association (MTNA) competition in Salt Lake City, Utah. Chris is currently working on a doctoral degree in Choral Conducting with Dr. Paul Tucker at the University of Kansas. He is director of Men's Glee and Collegium Musicum at the university. He recently directed a choral/dance collaboration of the Medieval mystery play "Ordo Virtutum" by female composer Hildegard of Bingen with members of the KC Ballet and Storling Dance Theater. Mr. Krampe has performed and recorded with the Grammy Award-winning Kansas City Chorale, under the direction of Charles Bruffy, and several other professional choral ensembles. In addition to performing, Mr. Krampe's main research areas are Croatian organ and choral music, for which he has received several grants to conduct research along the Croatian Dalmatian coast. During the summer of 2009, Chris was invited to give a presentation on Croatian music at the College Music Society International Conference in Zagreb, Croatia. He has also presented his research at several conferences throughout the United States.

NIKOLA LOVRINIĆ (CROATIA)

Moteti i madrigali istarskoga Seicenta • (L)(E)

Namjera je ovoga izlaganja ukratko predočiti najvažnije rezultate istraživanja vokalnih opusa skladatelja koji su ponikli s istarskoga poluotoka ili na njemu djelovali u prvoj polovici 17. stoljeća. Posebnu pozornost među tim glazbenicima ponajprije zaslužuju Gabriello Puliti i Francesco Sponga Usper. Naime, u doba kada Italija postaje najvećim glazbenim izvorom iz kojega su se napajale mnoge visoko razvijene kulture, u one dane kada njemački skladatelj Heinrich Schütz dolazi u Veneciju usavršiti svoju skladateljsku tehniku kod Giovannija Gabrielija, ni mali ali osebujan svijet istarske provincije, pun dinamičkih korjenitih preobrazba svojega gospodarsko-populacijskog i etničkog sustava, pod okriljem Prejasne Republike, nije se mogao oteti od njena premoćnog utjecaja. Jedno od svjedočanstava kulturne atmosfere takve sredine, djela su spomenutog Gabriella Pilita, talijanskog franevca konventualca, skladatelja i instrumentalista, koji zbog svoga plodnog skladateljskog rada i činjenice da je svoje zrele godine – od 1604. do smrti, oko 1644. – proveo u Istri, zauzima prvo mjesto po važnosti za glazbenu povijest ove male primorske provincije u prvoj polovici 17. stoljeća. Budući da je cijeli njegov sačuvani opus prije nekoliko godina u cijelosti objavljen u kritičkom izdanju, iz kojega će ovom prilikom biti predstavljeni njegovi četverglasni i peteroglasni moteti (1600.), te peteroglasni madrigali (1609.) i troglasne canzonette (1621.), sada bi konačno mogao očekivati temeljitu stilsku analizu i vrednovanje, i naravno, toliko željene koncertne izvedbe i njihovo bilježenje na nosače zvuka. Odatle i potreba za njihovim predstavljanjem. Uz Pilitijev opus ukazat će se i na peteroglasne madrigale (1604.), Francesca Sponge Uspera rodom iz Poreča. U posljednjem dijelu izlaganja predstaviti će se zbirka canzoni da battello iz venecijanskoga Settecenta, pronađena u Državnom arhivu u Pazinu i u kritičkom izdanju objavljena ove godine. Doista, note i pauze, točke i ligature koje su u novije vrijeme izvučene iz polutame snenih zakutaka njihove prošlosti, više ne smiju propasti u bezdan zaborava ili postati tek nizom znakova na hrpi požutjelih papira. Svoju će pravu snagu pokazati samo ako ih zadržimo u Euterpinom svijetu, ne ispustajući iz vidokruga niti jedno od uporišta u peterokutu skladatelj – notni zapis – povijest koju nosi sa sobom – izvedba – publika.

NIKOLA LOVRINIĆ – Studij muzikologije završio je 2003. na Odsjeku za muzikologiju Muzičke akademije Sveučilišta u Zagrebu diplomskim radom o madrigalima Gabriella Pulitija, pod naslovom »Gabriello Puliti: Baci ardenti (1609.) i Armonici accentii (1621.) – transkripcija, analiza i kontekst nastanka. Prilog proučavanju povijesti madrigala u Hrvatskoj«. Na istoj ustanovi u suradnji s Muzikološkim inštitutom ZRC SAZU u Ljubljani magistrirao je 2007. radom o Pulitijevu zbirci moteta, pod naslovom »Gabriello Puliti: Sacrae modulationes (1600.) – transkripcija, analiza i kontekst nastanka. Primjer zbirke moteta sjevernotalijanskoga kruga s kraja 16. stoljeća«. Od 2003. do 2008. radio je u Osnovnoj glazbenoj školi pri POU u Pazinu kao učitelj teorijskih glazbenih predmeta, a od 2009. zaposlen je na istome radnom mjestu u Osnovnoj glazbenoj školi Matka Brajše Rašana pri POU u Labinu. Autor je više znanstvenih i stručnih radova, referent na muzikološkim skupovima u Hrvatskoj i inozemstvu, te predavač na stručnim vijećima i seminarima za učitelje teorijskih glazbenih predmeta. Kao voditelj dječjeg pjevačkog zbora, redovito sudjeluje na susretima pjevačkih zborova djece i mladeži. Povjerenjem mu je kritičko izdavanje dviju zbirki Gabriella Pulitija (iz 1600. i 1602.), u sklopu sustavnog objavljivanja cijelog u potpunosti sačuvanoga skladateljeva opusa u seriji Monumenta Artis Musicae Sloveniae Slovenske akademije znanosti in umjetnosti. Pulitijev skladateljski prvičenac, zbirka Sacrae modulationes, u vlastitoj je transkripciji i uz analitičku studiju tiskana kao 50. svezak u seriji MAMS 2006., a zbirka njegovih psalama pod naslovom Integra omnium solemnitatum vespertina psalmodia objavljena je 2008. kao 54. svezak iste serije. Bio je suradnik na projektu Centre d'Études Supérieures de la Renaissance u Toursu i Hrvatske akademije znanosti i umjetnosti u Zagrebu vezanom za otvaranje web stranice s reprezentativnim djelima hrvatske glazbene renesanse. Glavno mu je područje istraživanja glazba kasne renesanse i ranoga baroka. Član je Hrvatskog muzikološkog društva, Hrvatskog društva glazbenih teoretičara i Katedre čakavskog sabora za glazbu Novigrad.

Usna šupljina i zubi sastavni su dio vokalnog trakta i vrlo važan čimbenik u formiranju pjevačkih tonova. Za pjevače izuzetno su važni sanirani zubi te adekvatna protetska nadoknada izgubljenih zubi ili Zubnih tkiva. Opsežni kariesni procesi te uznapredovali stadiji parodontne bolesti dovode do promjena na zubima i njihovom potpornom aparatu koje osim što utječu na estetiku i žavačnu funkciju, mogu uzrokovati i poteškoće u fonaciji te utjecati na konačni fonacijski rezultat. Suvremena stomatologija nudi rješenja za kvalitetno saniranje upalnih stanja u ustima te adekvatnu nadoknadu manjeg ili većeg broja broja izgubljenih zubi protetskom ili implanto-protetskom rehabilitacijom.

VLATKO LOVRINIĆ rođen je 1979. u Zagrebu. 2004. godine diplomirao je na Stomatološkom fakultetu Sveučilišta u Zagrebu, a 2009. polaze specijalistički ispit iz oralne kirurgije. U nekoliko navrata posjeće sveučilišta u SAD-u (Oregon Health Sciences University, Portland; Loma Linda University, California), gdje se detaljno upoznaje programom, planovima i postignućima te načinom rada tih uglednih centara. Redovito sudjeluje na brojnim kongresima i stručnim predavanjima iz područja dentalne implantologije i oralne kirurgije. Završio je dva semestra poslijediplomskog specijalističkog studija na Stomatološkom fakultetu u Zagrebu, a trenutačno pohađa doktorski studij na istom fakultetu. Član je Hrvatskog društva za oralnu kirurgiju, Hrvatskog društva za dentalnu implantologiju te Hrvatskog liječničkog zabora.

NATAŠA MARJANOVIĆ (SERBIA)

Kornelije Stanković – the Corner Stone in the History of the Serbian Church Music • (L)(E)

Kornelije Stanković (1831–1865), composer, melographer, conductor, pianist, musical teacher and musical writer, represents a turning point in the Serbian cultural and musical history. He matured among the bourgeois Serbs in the Austrian state – as he was born in Taban (a part of Buda inhabited by Serbs) and his education took part in Arad, Szeged, Pest and Vienna. Inspired by the work of Vuk Stefanović Karadžić and encouraged by the Pan-slavic circle in Vienna, he dedicated his short life to the work in the field of national creativity. He was the pioneer among melographers of the Serbian church chant. He wrote down, for the first time in modern notation, Traditional Serbian Church Chant and harmonised notated melodies for four-voice choir. In order to preserve church melodies, Stanković wrote fairly simple harmonisations. The soprano line is always the original church chant melody, while the content of three other lines brings appropriate harmonic accompaniment. Such an access to church music was very much consonant with the gradual introduction of choir singing at services, which started in the third decade of 19th century in the Metropolitanate of Karlovci. It is the question of the state in the field of the Serbian choral church music before Kornelije Stanković which is going to be investigated. Our aim is also to present the work by less famous composers Gottfried von Prayer, Benedict Randhartinger, Francesco and Giuseppe Sinico, Weiss von Berenfels and Spiridon Trbojević.

NATAŠA MARJANOVIĆ (1984, Novi Sad) finished her studies at the Department of Musicology at the Faculty of Music in Belgrade (2009) with the study "Traces of Shakespearean letter in the works by Enriko Josif – Hamlet and The Death of Saint Stephen of Dechant". She is joined to the project of publishing the Collected Works of Kornelije Stanković, led by prof. dr Danica Petrović. She works on transcription and redaction of composer's melographic writings and harmonisation of Traditional Serbian Church Chant. She is employed at the Institute of Musicology, Serbian Academy of Sciences and Arts, in January 2010. She is joined to the project of cataloging and digitizing of archival material from the Institute of Musicology, SASA. She also works on "Serbian biographical dictionary" (project of Matica srpska, Novi Sad). In November 2010, she entered the postgraduate studies (PhD) on the Faculty of Philology, University of Belgrade. She is going to write her doctoral thesis about life and work of Kornelije Stanković, considering cultural milieu of his time. She is particularly interested in church music and spiritual music of old ages and contemporary time. She leads the choir of the "Holy Trinity Church" in Zemun.

Music as Pleasure/Glazba kao ugoda • (L)(E/CRO)

Interest in the locations in the brain that control and collect information about human activities has existed for centuries. From the earliest case studies that, for lack of better methods, relied on indirect evidence about cerebral activities as consequences of injuries, to the modern sophisticated noninvasive techniques of brain imaging during various tasks, the sciences have come a long way increasing the body of knowledge about the brain and its functioning. In spite of that, there are still many unknowns about cerebral activity in specific tasks and situations. In this paper the neurophysiological basis of music activities is discussed. After a brief overview of cerebral representation of motor, sensory and cognitive functions the paper focuses on the relationship between production and perception of music and cerebral activity. It addresses the differences between professional musicians and non-professionals, various aspects of music, learning and practice effects, and consequences of brain lesions. In particular, it analyzes the way music affects our feeling of pleasure and wellbeing.

Zanimanje za mjesto ili mjesta u mozgu odakle se nadziru i gdje se prikupljaju podaci o pojedinim ljudskim aktivnostima postoji već stoljećima. Od najranijih proučavanja koja su se u nedostatku boljih metoda zasnivala na posrednom zaključivanju o mozgovnim funkcijama na temelju ozljeda, do suvremenih sofisticiranih neinvazivnih tehnika prikaza rada mozga pri različitim zadacima znanstvenici su prošli dalek put i neizmerno povećali količinu znanja o mozgu i njegovom funkcioniranju. Unatoč tome još uvejk ima mnogo nepoznanica o mozgovnoj aktivnosti u specifičnim situacijama i zadacima. U radu se govori o neurofiziološkoj podlozi glazbenih aktivnosti. Nakon kratkog pregleda mozgovne reprezentacije motoričkih, senzoričkih i kognitivnih funkcija usredotočuje se na vezu između proizvodnje i percepcije glazbe i mozgovne aktivnosti. U tom svjetlu uspoređuju se profesionalni glazbenici i laici, različiti aspekti glazbene djelatnosti, efekti učenja i vježbe kao i posljedice mozgovnih ozljeda. Poseban je naglasak na utjecaju glazbe na osjećaj ugode

GORDANA MUMOVIĆ (SERBIA)

Stanje glasa studenata glume • (L)(SERB)

(Gordana Mumović – Agotka Vitkai Kučera)

Uvod: U patologiji glasa glumaca značajna je prekomerna upotreba glasa. Cilj rada je bio utvrditi stepen i tip oštećenja glasa studenata glume i kretanje stanja glasa tokom školovanja.

Ispitanici i metode: U ispitivanje je bilo uključeno 55 studenata glume, 30 ženskih i 25 muških, 31 nepušač i 24 pušača, od 1. do 4. godine. U ispitivanju je korišćen upitnik koji je sadržavao pitanja o načinu upotrebe glasa. Subjektivna akustička analiza glasa je urađena GIRBAS skalom, a objektivna akustička analiza kompjuterskim softverom Dr Speech.

Rezultati: Analizom anamnističkih podataka promuklost je bila prisutna kod 87,3%, glasovni zamor kod 68,5%, bol grla u vrata kod 63%, pročišćavanje grla kod 87,3%, kašalj kod 56,4%, gorušica kod 18,2%, „pučanje glasa“, kod 54,5%, prekomerna upotreba govora kod 85,5%, prekomerno pevanje kod 37%, odsustvo zagrevanja glasa kod 74,5%. Način upotrebe glasa je bio najčešće: kombinacija govora i pevanja 40%, brz govor 23,6%, dugotrajan govor 18,2 % i glasan govor 14,5%. Subjektivna akustička analiza glasa je pokazala da 58,2% studenata ima patološki stepen promuklosti (parametar G). Objektivna akustička analiza glasa je pokazala da je prosečna visina glasa kod studentkinja glume F0 -210 Hz, a kod studenata F0- 120 Hz. Tokom studija glas studentkinja se signifikantno produbljuje. Kod 16,36% studenata nađene su patološke vrednosti sledećih akustičkih parametara SD F0, shimmer % i NNE. Poređenjem prosečnih vrednosti numeričkih akustičkih parametara između studenata prve i četvrte godine nađeno je signifikantno pogoršanje glasa u pogledu sledećih akustičkih parametara: minimalni intenzitet ($p=0,02$), maksimalni intenzitet ($p=0,01$), jitter % ($p=0,00$), shimmer % ($p=0,04$) i HNR ($p=0,03$).

Zaključak: Anamnistički podaci ukazuju na brojne glasovne smetnje i glasovno opterećenje kod studenata glume. Subjektivna akustička analiza glasa ukazuje da više od polovine studenata glume ima elemente promuklosti. Objektivna akustička analiza glasa ukazuje na patološke vrednosti pojedinih akustičkih parametara kao i na njihovo pogoršanje tokom studiranja glume.

VOCAL GROUP NORDIC BLUE (NORWAY)

Behind the scene with a vocal group – differences in vocal and technical approach between singing in a choir and a vocal group • (W)(E)

NORDIC BLUE is a relatively young vocal group from the city of Hamar in Norway. Its six members have diverse jobs – headmasters, teachers, nurses and a professor in music. However, they have all dedicated their free time to making music on a high level, and decided to form this group in January 2011. Nordic blue works both with and without microphones, depending on the setting and music. In spite of the short time the group has existed, it has already won a strong reputation in Norway for its music. The name Nordic Blue reflects the special light we have in the Nordic countries – a kind of blueish tone.

Head and larynx position during singing/Položaj glave i grkljana pri pjevanju + (L)(E/CRO)

For every singer, particularly beginners, mastering the optimal head position, which influences the position of the larynx, is imperative. The art of singing is based, among other things, on the lower larynx position with the thyroid cartilage bent forward. Squeezing and tightening of the throat, a common mistake among beginners, has a detrimental effect on the muscles of the throat which become too contracted. Instead of relaxing the muscles, adding to their elasticity, singers can contract them so hard the larynx gets constricted as well, which makes it impossible to reach the so called "free tone". Demonstrations of the above will accompany the lecture.

Ovladavanje optimalnim položajem glave pri pjevanju, a time i grkljana, je važno za sve pjevače, a posebice za pjevače početnike. Umjetničko se pjevanje temelji, između ostalog, i na niskom položaju grkljana, pri čemu je štitna hrskavica nagnuta naprijed. Napinjanjem i stezanjem vrata, što često čine početnici, negativno se utječe na mišiće grkljana koji su u tom slučaju pre više kontrahirani. Umjesto da su ti mišići opušteniji i elastičniji, pjevači ih znadu tako stegnuti da stegnu i sam grkljan, što onemogućuje postizanje tzv. slobodnog tona. Predavanje će biti potkrnjepljeno praktičnim pokazivanjem navedenoga.

The soprano VLATKA ORŠANIĆ was born in Zabok, Croatia. ROZINA PALIĆ-JELAVIĆ (CROATIA)

Zborski ulomci/brojevi u operi Nikola Šubić Zrinjski Ivana pl. Zajca (L)(CRO)

Već od prvih osvrta na operu Nikola Šubić Zrinjski, od njezine premijere 1876., osobito se naglašavala činjenica da su u toj Zajčevoj operi „dobi brojevi“ zborovi; oni su „efektni“, govorilo se tako o „izvrsnim ulomcima zborova, snažnim, udešenima od prvoga do zadnjega“ (o Slavi care i Tako nama Boga velikoga, potom o Zboru vila Ljubio je goluban kao o „uzoru ljupkoga vilinskoga pjevanja“, sve do zbora U boji!). Uvidom u partituru Zajčeve opere moglo se uočiti postojanje nekoliko tipova zborskih ulomaka/brojeva, a autorova intencija da zborskim dije-lovima svoje partiture poda znatnu ulogu može se sagledati iz nekoliko aspekata: iz aspekta „delikatnoga“ razdoblja u kojem je opera nastala, jer su sedamdesete godine 19. stoljeća bile osobito značajne u pogledu utvrđivanja nacionalne svijesti kod najšire publike/javnosti, kao i zbog intenziviranja zborske djelatnosti, čemu je pridonijela pojавa osnivanja mnogih zborskih ansambala i pjevačkih društava toga doba; iz aspekta dramske radnje, s jedne strane, i povijesne pozadine drame u libretu, s druge strane, u kojoj se nadredio patriotski princip pa su, upravo zbog važnosti teme/djela iznimnoga značenja i poruke, proistekla i autorova nastojanja za osobitim naglašavanjem takva pristupa (eksponiranoga i u zborskim ulomcima); iz aspekta romantičarskih toposa (o zajedništvu, podrijetlu, teritorijalnoj pripadnosti, nacionalnim junacima) koje je bilo moguće identificirati u Zajčevu operi, istaknuo se nacionalni identifikacijski narativ kao nositelj ideološke i svjetotvorne moći; s obzirom na posebnosti što su obilježile Zajčevu operu, među inim i činjenice da je libretist Badalić, ne brinući se odiše o vlastitu autorskem integritetu, pristao uvrstiti u tekst – u ponešto izmijenjenom obliku – završnu pjesmu U boj u boj iz pera Franje Markovića (koju je Zajc uglazbio desetak godina prije i koja će postati zaštitnim znakom slavne opere); s obzirom na ideologeme u operi, signifikantne i u zborskom partu, koji se mogu tumačiti u kontekstu ideje nacije, hrabrosti, (samo)žrtvovanja, odanosti, a među kojima je najučestalija sintagma u boj / na boj / sveti boj te činjenice da zborski Finale opere sadrži sve u operi ključne ideologeme (pritom se posebna pozornost posvećuje ideologemama u boj, koji se može pojmiti eksplisitnim hrvatskim nacionalnim identifikacijskim idiomom, a prepoznaće se ponajprije /samo/ kao temeljna jezgra Finala); naposljetku, iz aspekta društvene uloge opere, kojom jezično djelo/poruka koju imanira i opera po svojemu tekstnomu sloju, oblikuje evokacije što ih pobudjuju ekspresivni, imaginacijski rezonantni iskazi; eksplikacija taka iskaza dade se očitije predočiti, primjerice, u Finalu opere (U boj!), ali i u završnoj „živoj slici“ („Katastrofa“), scenskomu prizoru bez riječi i pokreta (Allegoria / Apoteoza).

ROZINA PALIĆ-JELAVIĆ – Uz studij matematike na PMF-u Zagrebu, diplomirala je na Odjelu za glazbeni odgoj (1984.) te na Odjelu za muzikologiju i glazbenu publicistiku (1989.) na Muzičkoj akademiji u Zagrebu. Autorica je dvaju udžbenika glazbene umjetnosti za gimnazije (Glazbena umjetnost III, Glazbena umjetnost IV) te 80 znanstvenih i stručnih radova, objavljenih u znanstvenim i stručnim časopisima, zbornicima radova s međunarodnih simpozija i dr. Sudjelovala je aktivno na 44 znanstvena (muzikološka) i stručna skupa u Hrvatskoj i inozemstvu. Glavno istraživačko polje: hrvatska glazba druge polovice 19. i prve polovice 20. stoljeća, osobito na vokalnom (svjetovnom i crkvenom) području. Članica je Hrvatskoga glazbenoga zavoda, Hrvatskoga muzikološkoga društva, Hrvatskoga društva glazbenih teoretičara i Hrvatskoga društva skladatelja. Viša je stručna suradnica u Odsjeku za povijest hrvatske glazbe Zavoda za povijest hrvatske književnosti, kazališta i glazbe HAZU u Zagrebu.

MARIJANA PEVEC (CROATIA)

Akustička analiza jazz pjevanja • (L)(CRO)

Moderna znanost o glasu, nastala nesebičnom suradnjom stručnjaka iz različitih područja, akcent stavlja na vokalne profesionalce. Analiza pjevačkih glasova, budući da se pjevači na specifičan način koriste glasom (nerijetko se dovodeći u ekstreme anatomske i fiziološke mogućnosti glasa), omogućuje važne spoznaje o glasovima koje se dalje mogu primijeniti kako u pedagoške, tako i u terapeutiske svrhe. U ovom radu analiziran je jedan upravo takav, pjevački glas. Contemporary Commercial Music je termin kojim se u svijetu glazbe označavaju svi oni stilovi pjevanja koji se ne ubrajaju u klasično pjevanje. Većina glazbenika koji zarađuju pjevajući upravo se bave nekim od tih stilova. Isto tako, za razliku od opernih pjevača koji tjedno prosječno imaju jedan nastup, pjevači iz, dugo smatranih drugorazrednih glazbenih stilova, imaju nastupe gotovo svakodnevno. Međutim u znanstvenim krugovima su još uvijek zanemarivani budući da se većina istraživanja provodi na klasičnom stilu pjevanja. Gotovo uvijek je slučaj da su vokalni pedagozi pjevačima neklasičnih stilova klasične naobrazbe i najčešće im ne mogu pružiti adekvatne informacije. Ovaj je rad pokušao biti tek malim doprinosom znanstvenom populariziranju popularnih glazbenih stilova. U njemu se pokušao analizirati fenomen jazz pjevanja ili barem neki njegovi dijelovi. Akustičkim analizama iz primjera pjevanja jedne renomirane mlade jazz pjevačice, pokušalo se utvrditi neke od važnijih karakteristika ovog specifičnog stila te vidjeti koliko i kako se jazz iz teorije provodi u praksi.

MARIJANA PEVEC je rođena 1984. godine u Požegi. Nakon završene osnovne škole u Kutjevu, 1998. se upisuje prirodoslovno-matematičku gimnaziju u Požegi. Od 1999. pohađa i srednju glazbenu školu u Požegi (smjer: solo pjevanje). 2002. godine na zagrebačkom sveučilištu upisuje Filozofski fakultet (smjerovi: fonetika i kroatistika). Tijekom fakultetskog obrazovanja, radi kao demonstratorica na Odsjeku za fonetiku (za kolegije: Artikulacijska fonetika, Fonetska transkripcija, Mjerjenje govornih sposobnosti i Neurofonetika). Od 2006. predaje na školi retoričke za nadarene srednjoškolce, Govorničkoj školi „Ivo Škarić“. Diplomirala je 2009. na Filozofском fakultetu fonetiku te hrvatski jezik i književnost. Također, sudjeluje na 4th, 5th i 6th International Summer Jazz Meetingu u Lepoglavi. Od 2010. pohađa i školu suvremenog pjevanja Mikrofon Star. Trenutačno je zaposlena u Centru za umjetnu pužnicu i nove tehnologije Poliklinike za rehabilitaciju slušanja i govora SUVAG.

Brojni fizikalni parametri utječu na percepciju boje zvuka, tj. timbra. Prvi i drugi formant vokalnih glasnika, iako nisu jedini smatraju se najbitnijim korelatom boje vokala te se pomoću njihovog odnosa opisuju vokalski sustavi. U takvom dvodimenzionalnom prikazu prvi formant vokala artikulacijski korelira s otvorenošću, a akustički sa sonornošću (obilježje kompaktnosti/difuznosti), dok drugi formant vokala artikulacijski korelira s visinom, a akustički sa svjetlinom (obilježje akutnosti/gravisnosti). U radu se istražuje kolika je promjena središnje frekvencije prvog i drugog formanta potrebna da bi se percipirala promjena boje hrvatskih vokala. Pretpostavka je da pjevači, koji uče nadzirano upravljati izgovornim organima, mogu, za razliku od nepjevača, percipirati manje akustičke razlike u položaju formata kao promjenu vokalske boje.

ELENMARI PLETIKOS OLOF rođena je 1974. u Puli gdje je završila jezičnu gimnaziju. Diplomirala je 1999. godine fonetiku i njemački jezik i književnost na Filozofskom fakultetu Sveučilišta u Zagrebu. Doktorirala je 2008. godine na području humanističkih znanosti s radom Akustički opis hrvatske prozodije riječi. Za vrijeme diplomskog i poslijediplomskog studija dobila je nekoliko stipendija te studirala na Odsjeku za germanistiku Sveučilišta u Salzburgu, Austrija (CEEPUS), na Institutu za strojnu obradu govora Sveučilišta u Stuttgartu, Njemačka (DAAD) i bila na stručnom i znanstvenom usavršavanju na Sveučilištu u Iowi, Iowa City, SAD (JFDP). Radi kao docentica na Odsjeku za fonetiku Filozofskog fakulteta u Zagrebu. Na Filozofskom fakultetu u Zagrebu izvodi kolegije Opća fonetika, Psihoakustika, Govorničke vrste i Metodika podučavanja govorništva. Radila je kao vanjska suradnica u Službi za jezik i govor Hrvatske televizije. Sudjelovala je u radu Govorničke škole "Ivo Škaric" gdje je kao mentorica vodila više od dvadeset sedmodnevnih retoričkih radionica za srednjoškolce. Objavljuje stručne i znanstvene radove s područja fonetike i retorike.

Spasio je od zaborava, snimajući i zapisujući, sate i sate pučke glazbe, pokrivši pritom nekoliko stoljeća te prakse i gotovo cijeli dalmatinski teritorij, obalu, otroke i zaleđe. Svojim pučkim oratorijima baziranim na pučkim zapisima udahnuo je novi život tom izrazu i ostvario kulturna djela hrvatske zborske literature.

Maestro Dinko Fio – Life and Work • (L)(E/CRO)

With his superb artistic work, Dinko Fio (1924 – 2011), a composer, a choral conductor, a musical pedagogue, an ethnomusicologist, and an adapter of folk melodies, provided significant guidelines for the development of Croatian choral music of the twentieth and the beginning of the twenty-first centuries. His oeuvre as a composer is almost entirely dedicated to choirs, which derives from his singing, conducting and pedagogical experience and has a basis in folk melodies of his native land, Dalmatia. Ever since he was in his twenties Fio had been a choral conductor, and until the end of his musical career he was a choral master of numerous primary school, high school, university, and professional choirs and vocal groups. Artistically, he was particularly successful in his work with children's choirs (Children's Choir of the Volovčica Primary School from Zagreb as well as the Zagreb Radio and Television Children's Choir), the Ivan Goran Kovačić Academic Choir, and as a musical leader and conductor of the National Folk Dance Ensemble of Croatia - Lado. He devoted the last two decades of his career to the work with Dalmatian klapas (a cappella singing groups). As an exceptional vocal and musical pedagogue he taught numerous choral singers with whom he won awards in domestic as well as international competitions. He gave a series of seminars and lectures on the methodology of choral singing across Croatia and in several neighbouring countries. On the phenomenon of the musical scale of Istria, which particularly intrigued him in his research work, he also lectured at American universities during a month-long concert tour by the Ivan Goran Kovačić Academic Choir in 1974. Fio's ethnomusicological and creative work is the result of the maestro's ties with his native, Dalmatian homeland and his systematic work on the collection, preservation and the promotion of the musical heritage of Croatia. He ensured the longevity of many folk melodies by harmonising and adapting them for children's, male, and mixed choirs and Dalmatian klapas, as many of them would have otherwise probably sunk into oblivion. By publishing his notations of harmonisations, and his own works in the folk idiom, Dinko Fio considerably enriched the most recent Croatian literature on chorals, thus also encouraging the performing practice.

Dinko Fio (1924. – 2011.), skladatelj, zborovođa, glazbeni pedagog, melograf i obrađivač narodnih napjeva, uzornim je umjetničkim i autorskim radom dao važne smjernice za razvoj hrvatske zborske glazbe XX. i početka XXI. stoljeća. Njegov skladateljski opus gotovo je u potpunosti posvećen zborovima, što proizlazi iz njegova pjevačkog, dirigentskog i pedagoškog iskustva, a počiva na vrelu pučkih napjeva njegova rodnoga, dalmatinskog kraja. Zborskim dirigiranjem Fio se bavio od svojih dvadesetih godina, a do kraja svoje aktivne glazbeničke karijere vodio je brojne osnovnoškolske, gimnazijalne, studentske, profesionalne zborove i klape. Osobito velike umjetničke rezultate postigao je u radu s dječjim zborovima (Zbor OŠ Volovčice iz zagreba te Dječji zbor RTV Zagreb), akademskim zborom "Ivana Gorana Kovačića", te kao glazbeni rukovoditelj i dirigent Ansambla narodnih pjesama i plesova Lado. Zadnja dva desetljeća aktivne karijere posvetio je radu s klapama. Kao vrstan vokalni i glazbeni pedagog educirao je brojne zborske pjevače s kojima je osvajao nagrade na domaćim i međunarodnim natjecanjima. Održao je niz seminara i predavanja iz metodike zborskog pjevanja diljem Hrvatske i u nekoliko susjednih zemalja. O fenomenu istarske ljestvice, za koju se osobito zanimao u svome istraživačkom radu, govorio je također i na američkim sveučilištima, tijekom jednomjesečne koncertne turneje sa zborom „I. G. Kovačića“ godine 1974. Melografski i obrađivački rad Dinka Fia rezultat je maestrove povezanosti s rodnim, dalmatinskim zavičajem i sustavnog rada na prikupljanju, očuvanju i promociji hrvatske glazbene baštine. Harmonizacijom narodnih napjeva i prilagodbom za dječje, muške, mješovite zborove i klape, mnogim je pučkim napjevima osigurao dugovječnost, jer bi mnogi od tih napjeva, u protivnome, vjerojatno pali u zaborav. Notnim izdanjima harmonizacija, obrada i autorskih radova u folklornom idiomu Dinko Fio značajno je obogatio noviju hrvatsku zborskiju literaturu te, na taj način, potaknuo i izvođačku praksu.

Strange fruit-The Voice in popular Music/Čudno voće-glas u popularnoj glazbi • (L)(E/CRO)

Na primjeru više snimljenih verzija pjesme Strange Fruit - inspirirane fotografijom žrtava linča na američkome Jugu, koju je prvu snimila Billie Holiday - razmatraju se neka pitanja vezana uz glas u popularnoj glazbi. Pritom je težište na nekoliko pitanja / problema: kako analizirati glas, kako usporediti više snimljenih verzija, odnosno: kako analizirati interpretaciju, kojim rječnikom opisati vokalnu izvedbu i usporediti je s nekom drugom i kako naći što se nalazi „iza“ snimljenoga glasa.

Listening to several recorded versions of the song Strange Fruit - inspired by a photograph showing victims of a lynching, first recorded by Billie Holiday - some questions pertaining to the topic of voice in popular music are considered. The focus is on several questions/problems: how to „analyze voice“, how to compare several recorded versions, or rather: how to analyze interpretation, which vocabulary to use to describe a vocal interpretation and to compare it with another, and how to find what lies „beneath“ the recorded voice.

DINA PUHOVSKI rođena je u Zagrebu 1977. godine. Na Muzičkoj je akademiji Sveučilišta u Zagrebu diplomirala solopjevanje (u klasi red. prof. Prevodi s engleskoga i na engleski te s nje- mačkoga (Atlas glazbe 2, Golden Marketing / Tehnička knjiga, 2006.). Giovanni Matteo Asola's Hymni ad vespertinas and the practice of alternatim as choral and vocal experience + (L)(E/CRO)

Italian renaissance Composer Giovanni Matteo Asola (1528-1609) published in 1585 Hymni ad Vespertinas Omnia Solennitatum Horas decantandi, a collection of the Liturgy of the Hours Hymns. There are Vespers Hymns for the whole Liturgical Year, whose structure considers in the most cases the alternatim singing technique, i.e. the alternation of monody (gregorian chorals – odd strophes) and polyphony (even strophes). Among various possibilities of performing the Hymns that are historically documented (soloist/choir, two choral ensembles, Organ/Choir), it will be here focused first on the performance practice by two choral groups (of non professional singers) and above all from the point of view of vocal experience of two expressive and technically different contents.

Talijanski renesansni skladatelj Giovanni Matteo Asola (1528-1609) objavio je 1585 Hymni ad Vespertinas Omnia Solennitatum Horas decantandi, zbriku himni za liturgiju časova. Radi se o himnama za Večernje (vespri) kroz cijelu liturgijsku godinu čija struktura predviđa u većini slučajeva pjevanje tehnikom alternatim, odnosno izmenjivanjem monodije (gregorijanskog napjeva – neparne strofe) i polifonije (parne strofe). Od različitih načina izvođenja himni (solista/zbor, dvije zborске grupe, orgulje/zbor) koja su povjesno dokumentirani, u izlaganju će se posebno analizirati specifičnosti izvođenja od strane dvije zborске skupine (neprofesionalnih izvođača) sa stajališta vokalnog iskustva dvaju ekspresivno i tehnički različitih sadržaja.

INGRID PUSTIJANAC – Nakon završenog srednjoškolskog obrazovanja u Puli (Gimnazija i Muzička škola), odlazi na studij u Italiju. Na Fakultetu Muzikologije u Cremoni Sveučilišta u Paviji 2000. diplomira muzikologiju, a 2004 završava i doktorat iz Muzikologije i filoloških znanosti. Istodobno na Konzervatoriju u Mantovi studira, te u srpnju 2000. godine, diplomira koralnu glazbu i zborско dirigiranje, zatim u rujnu iste godine i kompoziciju. Završava prvi stupanj studija elektronske glazbe u klasi profesora Alvise Vidolina pri Pučkoj glazbenoj školi u Milanu (Civica scuola di musica). Od 2001. godine kontinuirano radi u nastavi, kao asistent kolegija za Glazbenu analizu, te nositelj kolegija za Zborско dirigiranje i za Laboratorij starih i suvremenih notacija, pri Fakultetu Muzikologije u Cremoni, a osim didaktičke aktivnosti, sudjeluje u brojnim internacionalnim simpozijima o suvremenoj glazbi i objavljuje radove na tom području. Od 01.10.2002. do 28.02.2003 na stipendiji je Fondacije Paul Sacher iz Bazela u sklopu znanstvenog projekta «Skladateljska tehnika Ligetija – Koncerti za solo instrumente i orkestar». Od 01.02.2006. do 31.01.2010. djeluje kao znanstveni suradnik Sveučilišta u Paviji na znanstvenom programu «Povijest teorije glazbe i suvremenih skladateljskih tehnik» s projektom «Problem oblika u skladateljskim tehnikama na početku XXI. stoljeća», a od 01.02.2011 na programu «Novi oralitet: skladateljske tehnike između notacije i izvođačke prakse». Od 2001 dirigira zborom Fakulteta u Cremoni (s kojim redovito održava nastupe u Italiji, Njemačkoj, Francuskoj), predstavljajući moderne izvedbe mnogih neobjavljenih partitura iz razdoblja Renesanse i ranog Baroka. Usavršava orkestralno dirigiranje u Miljanu (u klasi maestra Emilia Pomerica od 2005–2007, i Yochi Sugiyame od 2007 do danas).

How many registers? - A physiological answer to an age-old question about the human voice and its practical implications for vocal pedagogy (L)(E)

The question of the number of registers in the human voice goes back to the very beginnings vocal pedagogy. In centuries of teaching there has been no concluding answer that would have remained undisputed among the experts. This is not surprising, as vocal pedagogy is a highly subjective field of teaching – as there are so few objective and measureable observations available. Not even the introduction of scientific methods, starting with the laryngoscope in the mid 19th century and progressing to sophisticated acoustic and physiological research in the 20th and 21st, could remove the persistent doubts. This presentation addresses the register question from the viewpoint of the work of the eminent New York vocal pedagogue Cornelius Reid (1911-2008), who presented in his publications a stringent and consequential answer to the register question. Over a teaching and research career spanning 65 years Reid managed to bring together knowledge of the Belcanto era with vocal physiology of the 20th century. He reached the understanding that due to the functionality of the intrinsic laryngeal musculature there are exactly two registers in the sense of two physiologically observable functional principles of the vocal mechanism. His findings have significant implications for the practical teaching of voice. Inasmuch as the teacher has developed the ear to distinguish vocal production according to these two functional principles, he or she can specifically train the registers, separated and in efficient coordination, in order to diagnose and overcome vocal deficiencies of the student. Reid asserts that the majority of vocal problems can be traced back to registration issues. To influence the mechanism of the involuntary laryngeal musculature there are three influencing variables under volitional control available to the pedagogue: pitch, volume, and vowel.

DR. PETER SCHMIDT follows an unusual career path divided between the fields of classical music and vocal pedagogy on the one hand, and economics and business on the other. He studied Economic Sciences at the University of Tübingen in Germany and at the University of Virginia (USA), graduating with a doctorate in the field of accounting and taxation. Simultaneously he has pursued an education in music and singing and graduated as Master of Music in Vocal Performance from the University of Colorado at Boulder (USA). After postgraduate work at the Hochschule für Musik Karlsruhe (Opernschule) he gathered performing experience at the Colorado Opera Troupe and with Denver Opera company. Upon returning to Europe and years spent in Munich and Stuttgart, he moved to Zagreb in pursuit of a new challenge in business consulting and academic teaching. He currently works for the Rochester Institute of Technology's Croatian subsidiary (ACMT). Peter nowadays enjoys teaching and performing concert and Lied repertoire, as well as research in vocal pedagogy.

Školski kurikulum – kurikulum slobodnih aktivnosti – pjevački zbor • (L)(CRO)

Za razliku od nacionalnog kurikuluma koji nudi strategiju razvoja institucije u širem smislu, školski kurikulum predstavlja, konkretno, praktično ostvarenje odgojno obrazovnih ciljeva. Osim nastavnih programa, školski kurikulum najčešće obuhvaća izbornu, dodatnu nastavu te izvannastavne aktivnosti. Utjecaj izvannastavnih aktivnosti na odgoj i obrazovanje učenika je vrlo značajan, počevši od stvaranja obogaćene sredine, preko učenja specifičnih znanja i vještina do učinkovitog korištenja slobodnog vremena. Istinsku usmjerenost na dijete, škola pokazuje pomno kreirajući sadržaje satkane na potreblja i interesima učenika te afmitetima i sposobnostima nastavnika. Poseban interes učenika za aktivnim bavljenjem glazbom (psihološko načelo) ostvaruje se i skupnim muziciranjem – sviranjem ili pjevanjem u ansamblu. Učitelji/nastavnici pak kroz veću satnicu od one u redovnoj nastavi mogu više utjecati na razvoj umjetničkog senzibiliteta budućih dionika glazbenog života (kulturno-estetsko načelo). Učinkovitost rada s pjevačkim zborom ogleda se u pažljivo i realno osmišljenim ciljevima, kao i vrlo jasno, metodički strukturiranoj provedbi zadatka, počevši od definiranja zabora, preko artikulacije pjevačkih proba, stvaranja repertoara sve do prezentacije rada (javni nastupi i komunikacija s publikom).

TOMISLAV SELETKOVIĆ (Slavonski Brod, 1977.) zborovođa i glazbeni pedagog, diplomirao je na Muzičkoj akademiji u Zagrebu. Predaje glazbenu kulturu i umjetnost u OŠ Kralja Tomislava i u Privatnoj klasičnoj gimnaziji u Zagrebu. Također je voditelj Županijskoga stručnog vijeća učitelja glazbene kulture te drži seminare i radionice za stručno usavršavanje učitelja. Trenutačno je usmjeren na kurikulum umjetničkoga odgojno-obrazovnog područja na poslijediplomskom doktorskom studiju pedagogije. Aktivan je radeći sa školskim i amaterskim zborovima (mješoviti zbor Ivan Kukuljević Sakcinski-Zagreb, Gradski zbor Dugo Selo, Mješoviti zbor Nikola Tesla-Zagreb) Dobitnik je nagrada na domaćim i inozemnim natjecanjima (Natjecanje zborova u Zagrebu, Johannes Brahms-Njemačka, Svjetske zborске igre-Graz).

MARTINA SPIRITOVA (CZECH REPUBLIC)

System of music education in the Czech Republic • (L)(E)

The system of music education in the Czech Republic consists of Basic Art Schools, High Schools of Music (Conservatories) and two Academies located in Prague and Brno. Further music education can be also found at several universities. All types of schools are mostly public although private or parochial schools are in CR, too. Non-professional choirs are based in all types of schools but also in leisure centres and within Churches. There are also choirs founded as a community organizations. Choirs are led by professionals but also by experienced non-professionals (e.g. students) as a result of a vast number of non-professional choirs. Professional choirmasters study at JAMU or pedagogical faculties; some choirs are traditionally led by organists or singers, the other ones - mostly at schools - by music teachers. Choirs in the Czech Republic can be members of Unie českých pěveckých sborů (Czech Choirs Union) which is an institution that organizes concerts, festivals and competitions. Thanks to a long Czech music tradition is singing in a choir widely spread but lacks the financial support.

MARTINA SPIRTOVÁ graduated from the Faculty of Philosophy and Art, Charles University in Prague. She studied choirmastery at the Faculty of Education, Charles University in Prague, in the class of Prof Miroslav Košler. In 2000 she won a scholarship to study at Universidad Complutense in Madrid. Currently she continues in Ph.D. studies at Charles University. She was the choirmaster of the semi-professional chamber choir VOKS for ten years. Nowadays she is the choirmaster of the mixed choir Musica Oeconomica at the University of Economics in Prague (together with her husband Kryštof Spirit) and the choir of Jan Deyl Conservatory in Prague. She performs with her choirs regularly. Moreover, her choirs recorded 2 professional CDs and made a number of recordings for Czech Radio. Her choirs placed at leading positions of several choir competitions in the Czech Republic and abroad (Prague Days of Choral Singing (Prague, Czech republic) – gold, Europees muzikfestival voor de jeugd, (Neerpelt, Belgium) – gold “cum laude”, Europe and its Songs, (Barcelona, Spain) – gold, Choral Days of Trnava (Trnava, Slovakia) – silver etc). Apart from choirmastery she devotes herself to singing (she is a member of Ensemble Hilaris, a choir focused on renaissance music), teaching (she leads a seminar on music theory for students of primary pedagogy at Faculty of Education) and organizing of musical events (e.g. she cooperates with a Swiss foundation Animate Stiftung on concert tour of the young musicians). Her thesis is focused on non-professional choirs and issues connected with pedagogy of singing.

MIRTA STUBLIĆ (CROATIA)

Aleja hrvatskih skladatelja • (L)(CRO)

Festival Osorske glazbene večeri utemeljio je 1976. godine Daniel Marušić (1931.-2009.). Osorske glazbene večeri usmjerenе su na hrvatsko glazbeno stvaralaštvo – prizvedbama novih djela koja će često nastajati za Festival te otkrivanjem djela iz baštine i njihovim prizvedbama ili prvim suvremenim izvedbama. "Mali vječni grad Osor," kako ga od milja voli nazivati Marušić, naselje je i pristanište na jugozapadnoj obali otoka Cresa. Osor leži na prevlaci, naknadno prokopanoj spojnici otoka Cresa i Lošinja gdje se danas nalazi pokretni most. Preteča Aleje hrvatskih skladatelja je Perivoj skulptura Kiparstvo i glazba ili Osorski kipored. Ovaj Perivoj je svoje prve "stanovnike" dobio 1977. godine a nastao je prema zamisli slikara Ede Kovačevića. Misao vodilja je bila da se po ulicama i trgovima postave takozvani autorski odljevi skulptura Međstrovića i Kršinića čija je tema glazba i djelovanje glazbe kao inspiracije na naše najveće kipare. Danas se u Kiporedu nalaze djela Ivana Meštrovića, Frane Kršinića, Vanje Radauša, Marije Ujević - Galetović, Tome Rosandića, Belizara Bahorića i Tomislava Kršnjavija. Aleja hrvatskih skladatelja (čijom će se detaljnijom analizom baviti u izlaganju) nastaje 2002. godine i danas predstavlja skup od šest portreta poznatih hrvatskih skladatelja (i jednog arhitekta i povjesničara): Ivana Brkanovića (rad Marije Ujević - Galetović), Borisa Papandopula (rad Kuzme Kovačića), Andre Mohorovičića (rad Andre Mohorovičića, ml.), Stjepana Šuleka (rad Petra Barišića), Dore Pejačević (replika Dragutina Šanteka, original se nalazi u Našicama), Igora Kuljerića (rad Nikole Vrljića) i Stanka Horvata (rad Nine Horvat). Autor glazbene ideje o posvećenju Osorskih glazbenih večeri pojedinom skladatelju, te otkrivanju poprsja odnosno portreta je umjetnički voditelj Večeri Daniel Marušić. Tri godine nakon smrti velikog entuzijasta vjerujemo da će se nastaviti ideja o povezivanju kiparstva i glazbe u Osoru i da ćemo se svi zalagati da se to ostvari.

MIRTA STUBLIĆ rođena je 1978. u Varaždinu gdje završava Opću gimnaziju te paralelno Srednju glazbenu školu (teoretski odjel). Godine 1997. upisuje Pravni fakultet i Institut za crkvenu glazbu "Albe Vidaković" pri Katoličkom bogoslovnom fakultetu u Zagrebu. Nakon diplome orguljašica je i voditeljica Župnog mješovitog zbor-a u Župnog dječeg zbora Župe Isusova uskrsnuća u Sesvetskom Kraljevcu. Koncertira samostalno i u suradnji s drugim glazbenicima i zborovima, nastupa i kao korepetitor na orguljama i klaviru. Radi kao učiteljica glazbene kulture u Osnovnoj školi Bogumila Tonija u Samoboru i voditeljica je Malog zbora "Sunčeve zrake". Godine 2007. upisuje Poslijediplomski doktorski studij hrvatske kulture na Filozofskom fakultetu u Zagrebu.

JOHAN SUNDBERG (SWEDEN)

1. Breathing and phonation • (L)(E)

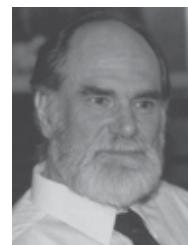

Voice teachers and choir leaders often experience that breathing is an important key to voice function. A number of investigations of singers' and nonsingers' breathing habits and their voice have suggested possible explanations of this experience. An overview of some results will be given in this presentation. Lung volumes in speech, only about 20% of the vital capacity is used, and mostly the breath phrases are terminated in the neighborhood of the resting expiratory level REL, i.e., the lung volume at which the inspiratory and expiratory elasticity forces of the breathing apparatus are equal. In singing phrases may be initiated close to 90% of the vital capacity or even higher, but are generally terminated near REL. The use of this wide lung volume ranges implies that singers much deal with greater recoil forces than in speech. Subglottal pressure is the main tool for vocal loudness variation. Singing demands quick and accurate control of subglottal pressure, since in singing this pressure needs to be tailored not only to loudness but also to the pitch, high tones requiring higher pressures than low tones. Breathing and phonation In untrained voices volume tends to affect the mode of phonation. Thus, a low diaphragm, i.e., and expanded abdominal wall, promotes glottal abduction and thus counteracts pressed phonation. This means that glottal adduction, i.e., the force by which the vocal folds are pressed together is lesser at high than at low lung volumes.

This effect is assumedly due to the abductory force generated by the tracheal pull, i.e., the caudal force that the trachea exerts on the larynx and that increases with increasing lung volume.

2. The voice as a Music instrument • (L)(E)

By varying the air pressure in the lungs, the length and tension of the vocal folds, the glottal adduction and the shape of the vocal tract the human voice can be continuously varied along three perceptual dimensions: loudness, pitch, and timbre. In this sense the human voice is more flexible than any other music instrument. Contributions to timbral variation emanate from both the vibrating vocal folds and from the resonatory properties of the vocal tract. The presentation will review some investigations of how singers use these means for the purpose of musical expressivity. In particular, three aspects will be considered, (1) mechanisms for producing and shaping, (2) strategies for making your voice heard, and (3) codes used for adding expressivity to vocal performances.

Until his retirement 2001, JOHAN SUNDBERG (born 1936, Ph.D. musicology, doctor honoris causa 1996 University of York, UK) had a personal chair in Music Acoustics at the department of Speech Music Hearing, KTH and was head of its music acoustics research group which he started in 1968. Visiting professor University of London and Universität Freiburg. Prređivanje za sve vrste klapa • (L)(CRO)

Tijekom vremena klapsko pjevanje i klapske pjesme doživjeli su određene transformacije u načinu pjevanja te u strukturi glazbenoga sloga. Cijelokupan razvoj ide u više smjerova, od kojih je jedan estradizacija klapske glazbe. Dok su nekada klape svoj repertoar temeljile na izvornim dalmatinskim napjevima, danas ga velikim dijelom temelje na estradnim pjesmama, koje u svojoj temeljnoj ideji nisu namjenjene klapskom idiomu i višeglasnom pjevanju. Na tom se je razvojnom putu dogodila i određena deformacija izvornoga sloga. Nakana je ovoga predavanja primjerom pokazati kako se treba postupiti pri obradivanju napjeva za muške, ženske, mješovite i dječje klape kako bi se sačuvala bit tradicionalnoga klapskog idioma.

TIHANA ŠKOJO (CROATIA)

Pjevanje – dominantna aktivnost u nastavi početničkoga solfeggia + (L)(CRO)

Sukladno suvremenim odgojno-obrazovnim promjenama i težnji da se s glazbenim obrazovanjem započne što je moguće ranije, glazbene škole pokazuju sve veći interes za predškolskim obrazovanjem u kojem bi se organiziranim planskim podučavanjem pristupilo odgajanju glazbenog sluha i pripravi za nastavak glazbenog školovanja. Predškolsko glazbeno podučavanje u okviru glazbene škole ostvaruje se u nastavi početničkog solfeggia i obuhvaća odgojno-obrazovni proces koji pohađaju djeca od navršene pete godine do upisa u osnovnu glazbenu školu. Nastava početničkog solfeggia ostvaruje se kreativnom kombinacijom aktivnosti pjevanja, slušanja, glazbenog opismenjivanja i glazbenog stvaralaštva sukladno sposobnostima i glazbenim preferencijama djece. Navedene aktivnosti čine propisani sadržajni okvir temeljem kojega se na načelima otvorenog kurikuluma ostvaruje nastavni proces s ciljem senzibiliziranja djece za glazbenu umjetnost i razvoja urođenih potencijala. Slijedeći prirodne pretpostavke da je glazba duboko ukorijenjena u biološkom ustrojstvu djeteta, te da je cjelokupni djetetov razvoj prožet vokalnim glazbenim izražavanjem, kao dominantna aktivnost predškolske glazbene nastave postavlja se pjevanje. Aktivnost pjevanja se provodi s primarnom zadaćom razvoja i sustavnog odgoja glazbenog sluha uspostavljanjem i razvijanjem intonacijskih znanja i vještina. Lijepim pjevanjem djeца zadovoljavaju umjetničke glazbene zadatke, razvijaju osjećaj za estetiku, sposobnost doživljavanja i zapažanja glazbenih izvedbi, emocionalno reagiranje na glazbu te muzikalnost. Prikazom konkretnih metodičkih postupaka izložit će se mogućnosti realizacije nastave početničkog solfeggia sukladno teoriji otvorenog kurikuluma. U prikazu praktičnog rada posebno će se istaknuti različite izvedbe glazbenih aktivnosti kod kojih se djeça izražavaju pjevanjem. Iskazani će primjeri obogatiti nastavnike novim spoznajama i potaknuti da iskušaju različite načine rada te nagnati da se prepuste kreativnosti u osmišljavanju i kreiranju predškolskog glazbenog podučavanja.

Singing – a dominant activity in teaching solfège for beginners

In accordance with the contemporary educational changes and initiatives to start musical education as early as possible, music schools show more interest for preschool education in order to, through planned teaching, develop musical hearing and prepare the children for further musical education. Preschool teaching of music in a music school is realized through solfège for beginners, for children at the age of five and until they start primary music school.

The solfege for beginners is a combination of singing activities, listening, musical literacy and creativity regarding the children's abilities and musical preferences. These activities present an obligatory content framework based on which, following the principles of an open curriculum, the teaching process is achieved in order to make children interested in music and to develop their innate potential. Based on the natural assumption that music is part of a child's nature and that his/her development is characterized by vocal musical expression, singing is the dominant activity of the preschool solfege. The primary aim is to develop and educate musical hearing through intonative knowledge and skills. Nice singing enables children to fulfill their artistic musical assignments, develop a sense of esthetics and the ability to experience and notice musical performances and emotional reactions to music and musicality. Presenting concrete methodological procedures, the possibilities to teach solfege for beginners in accordance with the open curriculum will be presented. In the practical part various musical activities in which children express themselves through singing will be presented. The examples will enrich the teachers with new insights and motivate them to try various methods of teaching and to be creative in teaching music to preschool children.

TIHANA ŠKOJO rođena je u Osijeku, 18. ožujka 1975. Završila je nižu glazbenu školu odjela ritmike i plesa i harmonike, te nastavila sa srednjom glazbenom školom teoretskog odjela. Studij glazbene kulture upisala je na Pedagoškom fakultetu u Osijeku, gdje je diplomirala 1997. godine. Tijekom studija dobitnica je dvije Rektorove stipendije za nadarene studente i stipendije Ministarstva znanosti i tehnologije. Na Muzičkoj akademiji trenutno pohađa poslijediplomski studij iz glazbene pedagogije. Nakon diplomiranja radi u III. gimnaziji i Glazbenoj školi Franje Kuhača Osijek. Od godine 2007. uposlena je u I. gimnaziji u Osijeku kao profesor glazbene umjetnosti.

JENNIFER THAM (SINGAPORE)

1. Choral tradition and choral life in Singapore West-meets-East: The story of choral music in Singapore • (L)(E)

Singapore sits right at the crossroads of East and West, with a colonial history longer than our independence. Our music traditions are borrowed from immigrant cultures: we are Chinese (74.1%), Malay (13.1%), Indian (9.2%) and others (3.3%). Languages spoken at home are English (23%), Mandarin (35%), Chinese dialects (23.8%), Malay (14.1%) and Tamil (3.2%). Our music reflects our colourful past and present. Our composers – equally assorted – are trained at home, in New York, Kansas, Paris, Graz, Brisbane and the Philippines. Each score is a time capsule, full of Singapore flavour as varied as our cuisine. This diversity of sound, texture and colour is what makes us Singaporean. The presentation will include a short history of choirs in Singapore, a shortlist of composers (together with contact/publisher information), a must-try catalog of choral scores and audio/visual recordings of choirs. If there is time, we could read some music together. The intent of the session is to give an overview of the breadth of choral music of Singapore, how such different elements work together to make something meaningful.

2. Sing, Singapore! • (W)(E)

Taste and smell the colours of the Lion City through our music, from onomatopoeic sounds of drums and zithers of our ancestral past to the hymns of our founding fathers. Featuring the works of Leong Yoon Pin, Phoon Yew Tien, Kelly Tang, Zechariah Goh and Americ Goh in languages as diverse as Mandarin Chinese, Malay, English and Latin.

A professional choir director, JENNIFER THAM is best known for her work with the Singapore Youth Choir (now the SYC Ensemble Singers), which she has directed since 1986. With the SYC, she has won several prizes and awards (local and international), gaining a reputation for refreshing forward-looking work and for being the "composer's choir". Jennifer is also Artistic Director of the Young Musicians' Society (YMS), which runs the First Aid for Choirs and Conductors workshop series as well as the Kodaly Seminar Asia for music pedagogues and choir conductors in collaboration with the Kodaly Institute of the Liszt Ferenc Academy of Music (Budapest, Hungary). An elected Board member of the International Federation for Choral Music, Jennifer helps coordinate the Asia Pacific Working Committee and is part of the Communications and Publications Working Group. Jennifer has chaired and spoken on panels at conferences in Singapore, Sweden, Estonia and Denmark, and was principal lecturer at the 2008 Lithuanian Conductors Summer Academy, hosted by the Lithuanian Choral Union and the Ministry of Culture. She has taught choral conducting at the Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts and given workshops and short courses to conductors at home, in Japan and Indonesia. She is on faculty at the Kodaly Seminar Asia where she teaches conducting and leads the Morning Sing. Jennifer is an inaugural recipient of Young Artist (Music) Award, given by the National Arts Council (NAC) and serves on various advisory panels for the NAC and the Ministry of Education, Singapore. In 2011, she was awarded for "Artistic Excellence" by the Composers and Authors Society of Singapore, for her contribution to the growth and development of the Singapore choral music scene.

SUZANA TURKU (ALBANIA)

- 1. The Art of Choral Singing in Albania • (L)(E)
- 2. Let's sing Albanian Choral Music • (W)(E)

The Albanian music culture dates back to the ancient history of the Albanians existence themselves in the Balkans. An important part of this culture is the art of choral singing, as well. Choral singing (in group), along with its intangible heritage value (Folklor), was practiced by the Albanians throughout the whole history. There have been well-known Albanian musicians personalities who contributed to the Choral sacred creativity (Church) as Nikete Dardania (340-414) with the Hymn "Te Deum", or Jan Kukuzeli (1070 -?), in Constantinople during the XII century, etc. ..The above mentioned tradition gained new values during the Albanian Renaissance and of the national independence period through activities of cultural and patriotic associations. During the last century, the art of the Albanian choral singing marked different stages influenced by pan European choral tradition, where each stage had its own features. Besides the musical phenomena, differences were due of the socio-political changes that accompanied the Albanian society. Before the 2nd World War the choral singing was practiced in churches and schools. After the WW2, under the communist rule, the art of choral singing as part of propaganda, was spread across the whole country. During that time, singing of cultivated folk songs got a wider practices along with massive choral songs and concert choral works of solemn and hymnized character. It was the year 1967 which marked the abolish of choral singing in churches. It's worth-mentioning the Albanian choirs of long tradition and activity are: "Lyra" (1920), "Schuola cantorum" (1932), "AUP Choir" (1945), TKOB (1947), the Choir of AKKVP (1957), the ILA (1962) "Pax Dei" (1993), "Little angels" (1993), "Rozafa Expression" (1999) etc. After 90ies there launched the activity of Church Choirs. In my lecture I will address the developing history of the choral art in Albania as an integral part of a relatively new and less known musical culture.

SUZANA TURKU-KASHARA – Conductress of Albanian chorus. She was born in Tirana, 21 December 1953. After studying for music in the School of Arts J. Misja in Tirana in the period 1968-1978, S.Turku- Kashara she did the University for choral conducting in the Higher Institute of Arts (now Art Academy) in the period 1972-1977, in the class of K.Xhokaxhi. She was appointed at the J.Misja high school as a conductress of girl chorus, where she worked from 1977 until 1983. In 1983, she is appointed as a conductress of chorus of the Theatre of Opera and Ballet, where she works until 2000. During this time, she has done different training courses in France in Le Centre des etudes poliphonique et du choeur in Paris (1989-1990); near Gloria dei cantores chorus in USA(1993), in the Seminar for chorus conductor A.M.J. in Wolfenbuttel, Germany (1995), in Global Symposium for the choral musi, Ljubljana, Slovenia(1995), in Multinational Chamber Choir Workshop, Austria(1997), in Hungarian Music Workshop in the International Festival of Brashov chorus, Rumania (2002), etc. She has been professor in the Art Academy in the period 2000-2005. From 2005 until now, She is the Deputy Minister of the Culture of the Republic of Albania. She has her beginnings of her activation as a chorus conductress in the important events of the Albanian music life (May Concerts) and in different concerts in Tirana and in other cities of Albania, realizing for the first time the choral music of a lot of Albanian composers, such as Zadeja, Diddari, Zoraqi, Ibrahimli etc. With the Chorus of the Theatre of Opera and Ballet, her carrier have had a quality arise inside and abroad Albania. In her repertory, there are included all vocal works, concert and opera Albanian works, as well as all the opera works that the Theatre of Opera and Ballet have putted in the scene in the period 1983-2000, as well as the great vocal concert works that the Theatre of Opera and Ballet has putted in the scene after 1990. These premiers are realized in cooperation with Albanian and foreign conductors, in the scene of the Theatre of Opera and Ballet in Tirana as well as in the other scenes out of Albania, especially in Italy, Greece, Macedonia. In 1993, S. Turku-Kashara created Pax Dei, the room chorus, with which she realizes a full and quality concert activity, inside and outside Albania, such in Germany, Italy, Greece and Switzerland. In 2001 she created the children chorus The little Angels, and creates the vocal group of girls Gjon Simoni,

Singing and phonotrauma/Pjevanje i fonotrauma • (L)(E/CRO)

Iz fiziologije normalnog pjevanog i govornog glasa poznato je da se glasnice tijekom vibrirajućeg procesa (kojim se prizvodi temeljni laringealni ton), sudsaruju s većom amplitudom u srednjoj trećini glasnica, u tzv. Frenkelovim točkama. Upravo se na tim mjestima razvija najčešća fonotraumatska patologija glasnica(čvorici, ograničeni edemi, ciste, polipi, ograničena oroznjenjenja, varikoziteti). Na uzorku od 25 pjevača s takvim promjenama na glasnicama i 25 pjevača s urednim nalazom na glasnicama- istražili smo mehanizme odgovorne za takvu glasovnu patologiju, odnosno pokušali iznaći optimalne vokalne mehanizme i tehnike, koje smanjuju fonotraumu na tim eksponiranim mjestima.

It is well known from the physiology of normal singing and speaking voice that during vocal fold vibratory process (production of fundamental tone)- vocal folds are vibrating with greater amplitude in their middle third (Frenkel location). This specific segment of the vocal folds is the usual site of frequent phonotraumatic pathology (vocal nodules, oedemas, cysts, polyps, keratinization, dilated vessels).We investigated the phonatory mechanisms responsible for developing such patholgy in the sample of 25 singers with described pathological changes and 25 singers with normal vocal folds findings. Thus, we tried to find out the optimal vocal mechanisms and techniques which reduce the phonotrauma at most exposed site.

PETER VON WIENHARDT (GERMANY)

The art piano accompaniment • (W)(E)

Explanation of the special necessities, required for the pianist to accompany singers and choirs in the right way. Acoustic specialities, emphasizing the interpretation in the right way and knowledge for conductors if working with pianists and singers together is the subject of this presentation

PETER VON WIENHARDT was born in 1966 in Budapest and had his first piano lesson at the age of four. His family immigrated to Germany in 1975. From 1984 onwards, he studied at the State University of Music and Performing Arts (Musikhochschule) in Stuttgart and completed his studies there in 1992 in the class of Oleg Maisenberg. He received important impulses for his compositional activities from Prof. Ulrich Süße and Gheorghe Costinescu. Further musical impressions and influences were formed through master classes with Georges Cziffra, Werner Scholz, György Sebök and György Kurtág, to name but a few. Peter von Wienhardt won numerous national and international competitions, including the Freinsheim Piano Competition, the Bartók Competition in Budapest, the Liszt Competition "George Cziffra" in Paris, and he was twice scholarship and prize winner of the "Deutscher Musikrat". For many years, von Wienhardt has been travelling the world in various capacities, including that of pianist, conductor, composer and chamber musician. He regularly has guest appearances in Asia and South America and has performed in the most renowned concert halls worldwide. His particular passion for travel and the exotic has resulted in a particularly enjoyable career and he often combines his visits with extended cultural exchanges in the various different regions. The number of his CD productions as a soloist, chamber musician and composer, increases year by year. The CD production with Arabella Steinbacher, violin, with the label Orfeo, was honoured with the ECHO KLASSIK award in 2007. In January 2009, the world premiere recording of Sven Ingo Koch's harpsichord concerto was released. Alongside his artistic activities, Peter von Wienhardt devotes his energies to the pedagogical communication of music. A good example is his participation in the piano master classes of the Bundesakademie für musikalische Jugendbildung Trossingen, which he has helped organize since September 2010. As a conductor, von Wienhardt has also followed his own unique path; his declared goal is to "serve" the orchestra, and help it perform to the highest possible standard. Peter von Wienhardt has also devoted the past few years to reaching new artistic heights. He has composed, amongst other works, two violin concertos (dedicated to Koh Gabriel Kameda), a cello concerto (world premiere on 24.6.2010 with the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra, Nicolas Altstaedt, violoncello), a piano quintet (commissioned by "Compania", 2009), a chamber opera ("Der Nachhilfeschüler") and the piano quintet "Hollywood-Suite" (world premiere 02/2009). An opera with an original libretto by Martin Konietzschke is currently in the making. In 2010, von Wienhardt was appointed Professor of Piano and Crossover at the Musikhochschule Münster, a faculty of the Westfalian Wilhelms-University.

VLADAN VULETIN (CROATIA)

Zborsko pjevanje u Kaštel Novome od 1860. do 1914. godine – fenomen negradske sredine u Dalmaciji • (L)(CRO)

Kaštel Novi je za vrijeme austrijske uprave u Dalmaciji bio sjedište općine za Donja Kaštela (zapadna ili trogirska) i brojio je samo oko tisuću stanovnika. Od 1860. godine u mjesnoj župnoj crkvi sv. Petra apostola djeluje muški pjevački zbor, a crkovinari su za zborovođu i orguljaša angažirali Giuseppea Bozzottija, profesionalnog školovanog glazbenika iz Trogira. Od kandidata za pjevače zbora tražilo se, među ostalima, kada da je pismenog stanovništva u Dalmaciji bilo manje od 10%, da znaju čitati hrvatski i latinski! Od 1884. godine zborovođa i orguljaš je učitelj Antun Koludrović, a od 1906. godine ovu je dužnost obnašao skladatelj i melografi Ivan Berket iz Kaštel Novoga. Zbor je na svome repertoaru njegovo koralno, figuralno i glagoljaško pjevanje. Kvalitativnom razinom rada mogao se „nositi“ sa crkvenim zborovima iz daleko većih gradskih sredina i sprovodio je u praksi cecilijanska nastojanja prije službenog osnivanja Cecilijinog društva u Zagrebu (1907.). Od 1878. do 1889. godine u Čitaonici u Kaštel Novome, utemeljenoj 1864., djeluje Pjevačko-dramatsko društvo pod vodstvom učitelja Antuna Koludrovića. Riječ je o jednom od prvih hrvatskih pjevačkih društava u Dalmaciji, a većina njegovih članova bili su upravo pjevači župnoga zabora. Ubrzo nakon prestanka djelovanja Pjevačko-dramatskog društva, već od 1894. u Čitaonici pod ravnateljem Ivana Berketa djeluje pravaški Pjevački zbor Bijač iz kojega je 1903. godine nastao Pjevačko-tamburaški zbor Bijačka vila koji je djelovao do 1914. godine i zapaženo nastupao diljem Dalmacije. Iz navedenoga je razvidno da je Kaštel Novi već do početka Prvoga svjetskog rata imao polustoljetnu tradiciju kontinuiranog zborskog pjevanja, što nedvojbeno predstavlja fenomen negradske sredine ne samo na razini Dalmacije, nego jamačno i šire.

VLADAN VULETIN rođen je 22. rujna 1960. godine u Splitu, a podrijetlom je iz Kaštel Štafilića i živi u njemu. Studij Glazbene kulture diplomirao je na Fakultetu prirodoslovno matematičkih znanosti i odgojnih područja u Splitu (1993.), a za rezultate postignute u tijeku studija dobio je Sveučilišnu nagradu (1990.). Magistrirao je muzikologiju na Muzičkoj akademiji Univerziteta u Sarajevu (06. 01. 2012., mentor: akademik Nikša Gligo). Stalno je zaposlen na Filozofskom fakultetu Sveučilišta u Splitu. Od 1990. do 1993., te od 2005. do 2007. godine bio je umjetnički voditelj klape Trogir, a od 1995. do 1997. godine i voditelj klape Cambi iz Kaštel Kambelovca. Jedan je od inicijatora obnavljanja Hrvatskoga pjevačkog društva Bijačka vila i njegov dirigent od listopada 1990. do danas, a od 1993. do 2003. godine dirigent je Mješovitoga zbara župne crkve Gospe od Ružarija u Kaštel Starome i Dječjega zbara Bijački slavuji OŠ Bijaći u Kaštel Novome. Od 1996. do 2001. te od 2010. do 2011. godine bio je umjetnički voditelj i dirigent Vokalista Salone iz Solina, a od 1999. do 2002. ženskog vokalnog ansambla Kraljica Jelena iz Dugopolja. Od 2001. godine umjetnički je voditelj klape učiteljice Bijačke mještovice OŠ Bijaći iz Kaštel Novoga, te od 2002. do 2005. godine i klape Sveti Juraj Hrvatske ratne mornarice iz Splita. S navedenim zborovima i vokalnim ansamblima osvojio je brojna priznanja i nagrade u Hrvatskoj (na Festivalu dalmatinskih klapa u Omišu, Glazbenim svečanostima hrvatske mladeži u Varaždinu, Večerima dalmatinske pisme u Kaštelima i Natjecanju zborova u Zagrebu) i inozemstvu (Zlatna plaketa na međunarodnom

Alaringealni glas i alaringealno pjevanje/Alaryngeal Voice and alaryngeal Singing
(Tamara Živković Ivanović¹; Mladen Jelićić²; Vesna Kirinić Papes¹) • (L)(E/CRO)

Laringektomija (ostranjenje grkljana) uzrokuje brojne probleme od kojih je najveći gubitak laringealnog glasa i nemogućnost govornog sporazumijevanja. Za cijelovitu rehabilitaciju laringektomiranih osoba važni su brojni čimbenici, a uspjeh najviše ovisi o usvajajući alaringealnog govora. Cilj ovoga rada je opisati vrste alaringealnog glasa te predstaviti alaringealno pjevanje. Izvršili smo objektivnu analizu alaringealnog glasa u govoru i pjevanju. Uzorak čini 12 laringektomiranih i rehabilitiranih osoba, članova zbora Optimisti iz Zagreba. Mjerenja su izvršena snimanjem glasa naglavnim mikrofonom direktno u računalno koristeći Kayelemetrics Computerized Speech Lab (CSL), Model 4500, a analizirano uz pomoć Multi-Dimensional Voice Program (MDVP), Model 5105 i programom Praat: doing phonetics by computer, version 5.3., University of Amsterdam, Amsterdam, The Netherlands. Objektivnom akustičkom analizom glasa utvrđen je frekvencijski raspon alaringealnog glasa kao i dinamički rasponi.

Laryngectomy causes numerous problems, most severe of them being the loss of laryngeal voice and ability to speak. The success of the total rehabilitation of laryngectomized patients mostly depends on their ability to learn alaryngeal speech. The aim of this study was to describe the types of alaryngeal voice and characteristics of alaryngeal singing. We performed an objective analysis of alaryngeal voice during speech and singing. The study sample included 12 laryngectomized and rehabilitated patients, who were members of the "Optimist" Choir, Zagreb. Measurements were performed with a headset microphone connected directly to a computer using the Kayelemetrics Computerized Speech Lab (CSL), Model 4500, and analyzed with the Multi-Dimensional Voice Program (MDVP), Model 5105 and Praat program: doing phonetics by computer [computer program], version 5.3., University of Amsterdam, Amsterdam, The Netherlands. Using the objective acoustic voice analysis, we determined the frequency and dynamic ranges of alaryngeal voice.

TAMARA ŽIVKOVIĆ IVANOVIĆ rođena je godine 1975. godine. Završila Gimnaziju te se 1997. godine upisuje na Edukacijsko - rehabilitacijski fakultet Sveučilišta u Zagrebu, smjer Logopedija. Na pretvodno navedenom fakultetu diplomirala je 2001. godine. U svibnju 2002. kao logoped, zapošljava se u Fonijatrijskom centru ORL Klinike Šalata, KBC-u Zagreb (sada Klinika za bolesti uha, nosa i grla i kirurgiju glave i vrata, Rebro, KBC Zagreb) Područje njenog djelovanja je glasovna rehabilitacija, a najuže područje, u koje je uložila mnogo ljubavi i truda je rad sa laringektomiranim osobama. Tijekom desetogodišnjeg staža u Fonijatrijskom centru ORL Klinike Šalata, aktivnim učešćem sudjelovala je na nizu domaćih i međunarodnih kongresa i stručnih simpozija. Od 2002. godine aktivno je uključena u rad "Kluba laringektomiranih osoba" u Zagrebu. Od 2005. godine voditelj stručnog rehabilitacijskog tima Zagrebačkog kluba laringektomiranih, te voditelj godišnjih seminara nadomjesnog govora H.Z.L. u Thalassotherapiji u Crikvenici. Od 2006. god. vodi projekt alaringealnog pjevanja.
